Earthquake, Fire Destroy Jap City; Death Toll Heavy

Nip Papers Estimate 5,000 Dead, Injured In Disaster At Fukui

TOKYO, Tuesday, June 29 (AP)—A violent earthquake jolted Western Honshu late Monday, but Allied headquarters said today initial reports of damage to Fukui and other towns "were greatly exaggerated."

A statement by headquarters' public health and welfare section said later reports from Japanese police and Red Cross units, and disaster workers indicated the disaster was not as severe as at first reported.

TOKYO, Tuesday, June 29 (AP)—A violent earthquake and fire wiped out 70 per cent of the Western Honshu city of Fukui and levelled surrounding towns, a United States military government team reported today.

The team said the remaining part of the city—which was nearly destroyed by American Superfortress raids in July, 1945—was "partly damaged" by the tremors late Monday.

There were plenty of rough guesses, but no reliable casualty figures were available before noon today. All indications were that the toll would be heavy.

The earthquake, its heaviest tremor lasting a minute, jolted a 20 by 10 miles area 200 miles west of Tokyo along the coast of the Sea of Japan. The earth shocks began at 5:14 p. m., Japanese Daylight Time (2:14 a. m., Monday, EST) and continued intermittently nearly 12 hours.

The Maizuru military government team said all United States military installations at Fukui, except four houses for dependents, were destroyed in the fire which followed the 'quake.

In Fukui the first shock was followed immediately by fire which destroyed almost all the city's 17,000 buildings still standing. American and Japanese reports from the scene said only the City Hall, telephone exchange and prefectural givernment offices remained relatively undamaged.

Officials Study Reports

In Tokyo, American and Japanese officials studied a mass of reports from the area in an attempt to accurately evaluate the effect of the quake. By mid-morning, the unofficial list from towns other than Fukui added up to only 296 dead, wounded and missing—but communications still were out.

United States army patrols were working to establish relay radio stations to speed up reports. Those received during the first hours were transmitted by portable radio or telegraph circuits maintained over rambling routes.

Japanese papers estimated 5,000 casualties—an admitted guess—but neither American nor Japanese officials would hazard a figure.

That the loss of life might be extremely large, however, was indicated by Lt. Ben Evans, Crawfordsville, Ind., of the Fukui military government team.

Reaching Takefu, 12 miles south of the stricken city, he reported by telephone that one crowded theater in Fukui has collapsed, with only three persons known to have escaped, and that the busy railway station was demolished, with no known survivors.

Fukui, with 85,000 population, is

Girl Who Defied Bishop Is Named "Miss Wheeling"

WHEELING, W. Va., June 28 (AP) — An 18-year-old Catholic girl who participated under threat of excommunication won a local beauty contest tonight.

Miss Mariruth Ford, daughter of a prominent Wheeling grocer, was named "Miss Wheeling" to participate in a state-wide beauty pageant at Moundsville in August. The winner there will enter the "Miss America" contest at Atlantic City.

She remained in the contest despite a declaration from Bishop John J. Swint, of the Wheeling Catholic Diocese, that he would expel from the church any girl who participated. Two other Catholic girls withdrew after his stand became known.

Trustees Of Mine Welfare Fund Act To Start Pensions

Unanimous Decisions Made At Conference

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — John L. Lewis and other trustees moved today to start pensions and distress payments from the miners' $45,000,000 welfare fund, frozen for 12 months.

The jam was broken by a ruling of Justice T. Alan Goldsborough a week ago. He said the proposed pension system planned by Lewis and Sen. Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee, would not violate the Taft-Hartley Act. That was the chief objection of Operator Ezra Van Horn, the employer-trustee, who had sued for an injunction against the payments.

The soft coal operators paved the way for the start of payments by accepting the decision without appeal. In effect that permits Bridges and Lewis—with or without Van Horn's consent—to absorb obligations of the now-exhausted 1946 welfare fund. The operators agreed in the new 1948 contract to double the tonnage royalty for pensions and other benefits, making it 20 cents.

At today's meeting, Lewis said all decisions were unanimous. That included a resolution to work out details so there will be no break in payments to families in distress who were being paid from the 1946 fund.

As for pensions, they'll be started after the forms and regulations are approved by the trustees. That won't be for at least another week.

The three trustees "disposed of much business," Lewis said, but actually some of it had been authorized in April, right after Sen. Bridges became the neutral trustee and helped to end a six-week strike over pensions.

Van Horn would say only that the court decision cleared up the whole situation.

He continues as trustee in the enlarged 1948 fund, effective July 1, unless he decides to quit or 51 per cent of the operators vote to remove him. Nothing like that seemed to be indicated at the moment.

Meantime, the steel company representatives who have refused to sign the new contract which the rest of the organized industry has accepted, met to determine what to do next.

They considered asking Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, to seek an injunction against Lewis, and charging him with an unfair labor practice.

The steel men, whose "captive" mines produce fuel for the steel furnaces, said the union shop provision of the contract now is illegal under the Taft-Hartley Act.

Refined Sugar Prices Slated To Go Up Again

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP) — Refined sugar prices are on the way up again at the refinery level, with hikes in retail stores possible later.

Seasonal increase in consumption, coupled with advancing raw sugar prices supported by the government under the Sugar Act of 1948, will send refined sugar up an average of 25 cents a hundredweight in the next few days, sugar brokers said today.

Two major refiners have announced the impending increase and others are expected to follow suit.

ELUDED MANTRAP-- Jerry Malek, alias Malleck, 23, Chicago, questioned by a Lyons, Ill., police station officer yesterday after Malek was traced to his home and captured, told police he eluded the biggest mantrap in Cook County history by walking to a busy highway and catching a bus home. He said that three other members of a hijacking mob escaped a net of more than 200 policemen by swimming the Des Plaines River. The gang held up a gambling house Saturday and shot two police in a running gun battle.

Army Hikes Draft Estimate; Plans To Call 30,000 Month

Jane Wyman Is Granted Divorce; Blames 'Politics'

HOLLYWOOD, June 28 (INS)—The "ideal marrage" of Film Stars Jane Wyan and Ronald Reagan ended in divorce court today, with the Missouri-born actress charging that "politics" broke up their home.

She testified that Regan, who is president of the Screen Actors' Guild and prominent in political activities, ignored her political beliefs and told her they were unimportant.

She also charged that the actor inflicted "grievous mental suffering" on her during their eight years' marriage, making it "impossible to live together as man and wife."

Miss Wyman won custody of their two children and $500 monthly for their support.

McGrath Predicts Truman Victory

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP)—Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D-R. I.), chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today predicted President Truman would receive a first ballot nomination at the Democratic national convention. He also said he did not regard Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a candidate for the nomination.

McGrath, asked at a news conference whether he expected President Truman to be nominated, replied:

"On the first ballot."

Asked, then, if he expected Mr. Truman to be elected, the party chairman answered with a smile:

"Yes, also on the first ballot."

A reporter mentioned to McGrath that a demonstration for Gen. Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, had occurred at a Democratic State meeting in Madison, Wis., yesterday. The newsman asked whether McGrath expected anything similar to occur at the national convention. Said the Senator:

"I don't regard Gen. Eisenhower as a candidate and I think that the delegates to the convention also understand that."

McGrath said the vice presidential field was "wide open" and that "there has been no crystalization of sentiment so far as I can tell."

Asked to comment on a published statement by Clare Boothe Luce suggesting Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as Democratic vice presidential nominee, McGrath said:

"I don't want any controversy with Clare Boothe Luce."

50,000 Moslem Girls Abducted During Riots

KARACHI, Pakistan, June 28 (AP)—Raja Hazanfar Ali Khan, Pakistani minister of refugees, said today 50,000 young Moslem girls were abducted during last year's communal trouble in India.

He said only about 8,000 of them have been recovered.

Ghazanfar Ali Khan said he had definite proof many of the girls were taken overseas by Sikhs. Large numbers of them, he added, were kept by high Indian police and army officials in their harems.

Eligibles Expected To Start Receiving "Greetings" Sept. 22

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — Uncle Sam figures on calling about 30,000 of his draft-age nephews into the Army every month between next fall and next summer.

The Army estimated today it will need between 225,000 and 250,000 (in addition to a hoped-for 250,000 to 300,000 volunteers) to start expanding toward the 837,000-man size strength authorized by Congress when it passed the peacetime Selective Service Act. Drafting will start about September 22.

Today's estimate of the induction rate was a substantial increase over previous estimates. A month ago defense officials were talking about inducting between 200,000 and 225,000 the first year.

But the 30,000 a month draft call of men 19 through 25 years old is a pretty modest affair compared with the huge manpower levies made during the war. The peak induction rate then was reached in February, 1943, when 406,374 men received greetings from the President and their draft board. And between August, 1941, and March, 1943, the monthly total never fell below 300,000.

Royall Makes Estimate

Secretary of the Army Royall made the estimate of monthly quotas today while answering a number of news conference questions about the plans for the second peacetime draft in history. He noted there are problems to be worked in getting the program started, but set forth the broad plan. It is thus:

The Army now has 542,000 men. It won't jump to the 837,000 immediately because funds for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, are not sufficient. So, by July 1, 1949, the size of the Army will be about 790,000.

When the Army does attain the full 837,000 strength it will consist of 12 regular Army divisions. Backstopping these regular divisions will be six National Guard divisions, and supporting elements such as anti-aircraft artillery and service troops. The guard divisions, like the regular Army outfits, will be at full strength, fully equipped and ready to go. The six guard divisions will not be the only ones, but will be those picked for building up quickly to fighting strength. Royall said when the new regular Army-National Guard strength goal is attained "we will be able to organize for the first time since the close of

Attlee Is Granted Powers To Cope With Dock Strike

National Emergency Is Declared By King

LONDON, June 28 (AP) — King George VI armed Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government tonight with sweeping powers to wage a finish fight with leaders of Britain's spreading dock strike.

At the government's request the King declared a state of national emergency. The Monarch's proclamation, when published tomorrow in the Royal Gazette, will enable Attlee's Cabinet to invoke the National Emergency Act of 1920. That act has not been used since the British general strike of 1926.

"Communist Mischief"

Attlee regards "Communist mischief" as being partly responsible for the unauthorized 15-day-old walkout. In a radio address tonight he declared his government "must see that the people are fed."

"I am sure the people of this country will support the government in the steps they have taken and are taking," the Prime Minister declared.

"Who advised you to do this?" Attlee asked the strikers.

"No people of great influence," Attlee continued, "but only a small nucelus instructed for political reasons to take advantage of any situation for the disruption of the British economy and the undermining of the government."

Wants No Compromise

Earlier, Attlee told the House of Commons that he had no intention of suggesting a compromise with the strike leaders.

Under the National Emergency Act his government can requisition buildings and equipment and take over billeting for troops or voluntary workers. As an extreme measure persons found guilty of offenses against regulations set up under the act can be jailed for three months and fined $400.

The act does not, however, permit conscription of industry or workers. Neither does it provide any penalty for continuing a strike.

Ban On German Travel To Red Zone Is Lifted

Russians Say Rail Blockade Of Berlin Will Be Continued

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 29 (AP)—The Rusians lifted their ban on interzonal travel by Germans early today but announced that rail traffic to blockaded Berlin could not be resumed "for some time."

The Soviet-licensed news agency ADN, which reported the Russian announcement, said repairs on the Helmsdedt-Berlin line which brought vital supplies from the west "will still take some time."

The Russians suspended rail traffic from Helmstedt to the German capital eight days ago for "technical reasons."

The United States and Britain tried today to work an aviation miracle by flying food to 2,500,000 Berliners over the Russian land blockade.

The ADN report added that resumption of train traffic between Berlin and the western zones had met with further obstacles "because of the introduction of the new western zone currency into the western sectors of Berlin."

This, the Russian-licensed agency said, "is aimed at the destruction of the economy of the Soviet occupation zone and Berlin."

The lifting of the ban on interzonal travel apparently applies only to automobile and pedestrian traffic.

Draper, Wedemeyer Arrive

United States UnderSecretary of the Army William H. Draper Jr. and Lt. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer, of the United States general staff, arrived in Berlin last night for conferences with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American commander in Germany. They will confer on the current Berlin crisis.

The United States and Britain tried yesterday to work an aviation miracle by flying food to 2,500,000 Berliners over the Soviet land blockade. After United States planes had flown a shuttle service to the city all day, American authorities announced the service was being put on a 24-hour-a-day schedule. An Air Force spokesman said, however, that not many planes will fly with supplies at night. The afterdark operation mostly will involve flights of planes returning to their base at Frankfurt from Berlin.

A British spokesman said it might be necessary to parachute food into the city if the air traffic becomes too heavy for British and United States airfields to handle. Only 13 British planes carrying supplies for the British community arrived today.

Transports To Leave U. S.

(The Caribbean Air Command headquarters in Panama announced last night the first two C-54 Skymasters of the United States 20th Troop Carrier Squadron will leave Albrock airbase early today for Frankfurt. The full complement of 12 planes will take off as soon as crews can gather up their equipment. They will fly to Germany via Bermuda and the Azores. It was

'48 GOP Nominees To Confer Today

PAWLING, N. Y., June 28 (AP)—The Governors of New York and California will sit down tomorrow in the quiet of Thomas E. Dewey's farm for their first heart-to-heart talk since they became the 1948 Republican nominees.

The chat will give Dewey and Gov. Earl Warren a chance to spell out details of the hard-hitting campaign they both have said they want.

Warren, his wife and three daughters are to arrive at 10:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow to spend the day and possibly tomorrow night with the Dewey family. They will drive up from New York City.

Dewey said on the train coming from Philadelphia here that he was eager for a private talk with his running mate. He explained they never were able to get a minute alone in the jam-packed final hours of the national convention.

The presidential nominee's aides make no secret of the fact they are counting on Warren to bring in many additional Far West votes and specifically to carry California for the GOP national ticket for the first time since 1928. Warren never has been beaten in a bid for public office.

The nominees are expected to work out at least tentative plans for an extremely busy four months with most of the action concentrated in September and October.

Youth Shoots His Father In Defense Of Mother

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., June 28. (AP)—A 15-year-old youth, who said he shot in defense of his mother, was held today in the Snyder County jail in the rifle wounding of his father.

Sheriff Palmer E. Dinius said Joseph Balutis, Girardville, told him he shot his father "to make him stop abusing mother." No charges have been filed against the boy.

The father, Bryan Balutis, 37, was shot with a .22 calibre rifle in the abdomen, jaw and neck. He was taken to the Danville hospital where his condition was described as satisfactory.

WARNED—Declaring he must hew to the Moscow line or get out, Marshall Tito (above), leader of Yugoslav Communists, yesterday was denounced by the Cominform as pursuing a hateful policy toward Russia.

U. S. Ship Shelled Arab Lines, Syria Official Charges

Says Protest Made To Washington, U.N.

CAIRO, June 28 (AP)—The Syrian government has protested that a United States warship off the Palestine coast shelled Arab lines, a high Syrian official said tonight.

The protest was made to the United States and to Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations Palestine mediator, the official said.

This disclosure was made by Mahsen Al Barazi, Syrian minister of the interior, who described the warship as one of those which the United States recently placed at the disposal of Bernadotte.

Al Barazi, who claimed the action occurred during an Arab-Jewish battle in Northern Palestine two days ago, arrived in Cairo today for tomorrow's Arab League Political Committee meeting. He told this story to newsmen:

Casualties Reported

"Zionists forces recently attacked the town of Al Barwa about 12 kilometers along the coast inside Palestine, and occupied it in spite of the truce.

"The Arab liberation army headed by Fawzi Pasha Al Kaukji launched a counterattack, restoring the positions to those as when the truce started. During the battle, American planes circled over the Arab forces. A short while later Arab lines were shelled by an American warship placed at Bernadotte's disposal, resulting in casualties. We sent a strong protest today to American authorities in Damascus as well as to Count Bernadotte."

Al Barazi said Syria also had protested against a United States exchange of diplomatic representatives with Israel on grounds the action gives the Jews a political advantage during the truce.

Bernadotte's special Cairo representative, J. Escarati, said he knew nothing about the warship incident.

No Protest Received

(In Washington, the State Department said tonight it had received no official word on the Syrian protest. A department spokesman said American destroyers were in the Palestine area only as observers of the United Nations truce.

(The captains were under strict orders not to fire, not to search and not to board other vessels," the spokesman said.)

A dispatch to the Cairo newspaper, Al Ahram, from its correspondent in Saudi Arabia, said tonight official talks on the Holy Land problem between King Ibn Saud and King Abdullah, of Trans-Jordan, began yesterday in Riyadh.

Pocket Veto For Key Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — President Truman has applied a pocket veto to a bill which would have provided $65,000 for restoration of the home in Georgetown in which Francis Scott Key lived for 20 years.

The bill died when Mr. Truman failed to act on it within the required time. He gave no reason for his failure to sign it.

Follow Russia 'Or Else,' Yugo Leaders Told

Marshal Is Accused Of Pursuing Hateful Policy Toward USSR

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 28 (AP) — The Cominform denounced Marshall Tito's leadership of Yugoslav Communists today and declared he and other top Communists at Belgrade must hew to the Moscow line or get out.

The Cominform is the Moscow-blessed Communist International Information Bureau. It accused the Yugoslav leaders of pursuing a hateful and slanderous policy toward Russia and leaning their sympathies toward western methods.

The blast came in a 3,000-word resolution adopted at a meeting of the Cominform this month in Romania—a meeting where Yugoslav Communists, among the Cominform's founders, were not represented. It was published here today.

Marshal Tito and his top aides were accused of retreating from Marxism-Leninism by "undertaking an entirely wrong policy on the principal question of foreign and internal politics." The statement called for "either a true return to Marxist policy or a change of Communist leaders in Yugoslavia."

One section of the resolution indicated Tito and his chiefs might be given a chance to mend their ways before final action is taken. The resolution said in part:

Mend Ways Or Step Down

"The aim of these sound elements of the Communist Party of Yugoslavia is to force their present leading factors to confess openly and honestly their faults and correct them; to part from nationalism; to return to internationalism and in every way to fix the united socialistic front against imperialism. Or if the present leaders of the Communist Party of Yugoslavia prove unable to do this task, to change them and to raise from below a new internationalistic leadership of the Communist Party in Yugoslavia. The information bureau does not doubt that the Communist Party can fulfill this task."

Singled out for criticism were Tito, Vice-Premier Edvard Kardelj—one of the founders of the Cominform — Milovan Djilas, minister for Montenegro, one of the Yugoslav states, and Lt. Gen. Alexander Rankovic, who as minister of the interior has bossed Yugoslavia's police force.

There was immediate speculation that such a blast would be issued only after specific action had been taken against Tito, but no confirmation of this came from Belgrade. Carefully phrased dispatches from that capital said Tito was believed to be at his summer home at Bled.

Red Army Discredited

A. Zhdanov, a member of Russia's Politburo and often rated one of the three most powerful men in the Soviet Union, attended the meeting and signed its official statement. As published in Rude Pravo, official newspaper of the Czechoslovak Communist Party, it said the Yugoslav Communist leaders "created a hateful policy in relation to Soviet Russia and to the all-Communist Union of Bolsheviks."

An "undignified policy of underestimating Soviet military specialists was allowed" and members of the Russian army were discredited, it said.

The Cominform further contended that a slander propaganda campaign "borrowed from the arsenal of counter-revolutionary Trotz-

LAKE SUCCESS, June 28 (AP)—An authoritative source said tonight United Nations Secretary-General Trygve Lie is studying the question of putting the Berlin situation before the Security Council.

This source, who would not permit identification, said Lie has on his own initiative made tentative inqures of some members of the bg powers about bringing up the Berlin deadlock.

Lie's office would not comment on the report.

NLRB Attorneys Suggest Examiner Hold ITU Guilty

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — National Labor Relations Board attorneys today recommended that an NLRB trial examiner hold the AFL International Typographical Union guilty of unfair labor practices in its dealings with newspapers from coast to coast.

NLRB Attorneys Allen Sinsheimer, Jr., and Caroll L. Martin, acting for NLRB General Counsel Robert N. Denham, made the recommendations as a suggested order for NLRB Trial Examiner Arthur Leff

Leff presided over six-month-long hearings on charges brought against the ITU and its officers, including Union President Woodruff Randolph, by the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the Chicago Newspaper Publishers Association.

The testimony and briefs, as well as the recommended order filed today, will be considered by Leff in making his report to the NLRB. The case probably will be considered by the five-man NLRB itself eventually.

The ITU and its officers have been restrained by a federal court injunction, obtained March 27, against continuing the alleged unfair labor practices involved in the case until Leff and the NLRB has a chance to pass on them.

In calling on Leff to find the union and its officers guilty of carrying on practices banned by the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, Sinsheimer and Martin said in a 160-page brief:

"The foregoing actions of the union and its utilization of numerous devices all designed to achieve the same illegal objectives illustrate the necessity for a most comprehensive order directed against the respondents (the ITU and its officers) to insure that there be no repetition of these violations."

Calvert County Approves Slot Machines' Licensing

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md., June 28 (AP) — Calvert County voters authorized licensing of slot machines by the county commissioners today.

In a referendum, they cast 1,724 votes in favor of licensing and 986 against, a complete unofficial tally showed.

Under a local bill pushed through a special General Assembly session a month ago by Sen. Louis L. Goldstein, a licensing law will become effective at once as a result of today's referendum.

The charge will net $150 annually for each of the first four machines. Operators of more than four will pay $150 for each additional machine costing up to $1,000.

Persons under 16 will not be permitted to play the machines.

The bill, as it passed the Legislature, provided the first revenue was to pay the expenses of the special election, the next $250,000 would be used for a new county hospital, and the remainder would go into the county's general fund.

The pre-referendum campaign did not stir up too much activity.

A group which signed itself "property owners and taxpayers" issued a statement saying the county's $2.17 tax rate is too high and that funds for a much-needed hospital could not be obtained by floating bonds.

"Nearly all the playing of slot machines is done by Washington people," the statement added.

The Civic Association of Calvert County campaigned with the slogan: "We need not sell our decency or character for the price of a hospital."

Earthquake, Fire Destroy Jap City; Death Toll Heavy

Girl Who Defied Bishop Is Named "Miss Wheeling"

WHEELING, W. Va., June 28 (AP) — An 18-year-old Catholic girl who participated under threat of excommunication won a local beauty contest tonight.

Miss Mariruth Ford, daughter of a prominent Wheeling grocer, was named "Miss Wheeling" to participate in a state-wide beauty pageant at Moundsville in August. The winner there will enter the "Miss America" contest at Atlantic City.

She remained in the contest despite a declaration from Bishop John J. Swint, of the Wheeling Catholic Diocese, that he would expel from the church any girl who participated. Two other Catholic girls withdrew after his stand became known.

Trustees Of Mine Welfare Fund Act To Start Pensions

Unanimous Decisions Made At Conference

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — John L. Lewis and other trustees moved today to start pensions and distress payments from the miners' $45,000,000 welfare fund, frozen for 12 months.

The jam was broken by a ruling of Justice T. Alan Goldsborough a week ago. He said the proposed pension system planned by Lewis and Sen. Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee, would not violate the Taft-Hartley Act. That was the chief objection of Operator Ezra Van Horn, the employer-trustee, who had sued for an injunction against the payments.

The soft coal operators paved the way for the start of payments by accepting the decision without appeal. In effect that permits Bridges and Lewis—with or without Van Horn's consent—to absorb obligations of the now-exhausted 1946 welfare fund. The operators agreed in the new 1948 contract to double the tonnage royalty for pensions and other benefits, making it 20 cents.

At today's meeting, Lewis said all decisions were unanimous. That included a resolution to work out details so there will be no break in payments to families in distress who were being paid from the 1946 fund.

As for pensions, they'll be started after the forms and regulations are approved by the trustees. That won't be for at least another week.

The three trustees "disposed of much business," Lewis said, but actually some of it had been authorized in April, right after Sen. Bridges became the neutral trustee and helped to end a six-week strike over pensions.

Van Horn would say only that the court decision cleared up the whole situation.

He continues as trustee in the enlarged 1948 fund, effective July 1, unless he decides to quit or 51 per cent of the operators vote to remove him. Nothing like that seemed to be indicated at the moment.

Meantime, the steel company representatives who have refused to sign the new contract which the rest of the organized industry has accepted, met to determine what to do next.

They considered asking Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, to seek an injunction against Lewis, and charging him with an unfair labor practice.

The steel men, whose "captive" mines produce fuel for the steel furnaces, said the union shop provision of the contract now is illegal under the Taft-Hartley Act.

ELUDED MANTRAP—Jerry Malek, alias Malleck, 23, Chicago, questioned by a Lyons, Ill., police station officer yesterday after Malek was traced to his home and captured, told police he eluded the biggest mantrap in Cook County history by walking to a busy highway and catching a bus home. He said that three other members of a hijacking mob escaped a net of more than 200 policemen by swimming the Des Plaines River. The gang held up a gambling house Saturday and shot two police in a running gun battle.

Army Hikes Draft Estimate; Plans To Call 30,000 Month

Jane Wyman Is Granted Divorce; Blames 'Politics'

HOLLYWOOD, June 28 (INS)—The "ideal marrage" of Film Stars Jane Wyan and Ronald Reagan ended in divorce court today, with the Missouri-born actress charging that "politics" broke up their home.

She testified that Regan, who is president of the Screen Actors' Guild and prominent in political activities, ignored her political beliefs and told her they were unimportant.

She also charged that the actor inflicted "grievous mental suffering" on her during their eight years' marriage, making it "impossible to live together as man and wife."

Miss Wyman won custody of their two children and $500 monthly for their support.

McGrath Predicts Truman Victory

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP)—Sen. J. Howard McGrath (D-R. I.), chairman of the Democratic National Committee, today predicted President Truman would receive a first ballot nomination at the Democratic national convention. He also said he did not regard Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as a candidate for the nomination.

McGrath, asked at a news conference whether he expected President Truman to be nominated, replied:

"On the first ballot."

Asked, then, if he expected Mr. Truman to be elected, the party chairman answered with a smile:

"Yes, also on the first ballot."

A reporter mentioned to McGrath that a demonstration for Gen. Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, had occurred at a Democratic State meeting in Madison, Wis., yesterday. The newsman asked whether McGrath expected anything similar to occur at the national convention. Said the Senator:

"I don't regard Gen. Eisenhower as a candidate and I think that the delegates to the convention also understand that."

McGrath said the vice presidential field was "wide open" and that "there has been no crystalization of sentiment so far as I can tell."

Asked to comment on a published statement by Clare Boothe Luce suggesting Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt as Democratic vice presidential nominee, McGrath said:

"I don't want any controversy with Clare Boothe Luce."

Eligibles Expected To Start Receiving "Greetings" Sept. 22

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — Uncle Sam figures on calling about 30,000 of his draft-age nephews into the Army every month between next fall and next summer.

The Army estimated today it will need between 225,000 and 250,000 (in addition to a hoped-for 250,000 to 300,000 volunteers) to start expanding toward the 837,000-man size strength authorized by Congress when it passed the peacetime Selective Service Act. Drafting will start about September 22.

Today's estimate of the induction rate was a substantial increase over previous estimates. A month ago defense officials were talking about inducting between 200,000 and 225,000 the first year.

But the 30,000 a month draft call of men 19 through 25 years old is a pretty modest affair compared with the huge manpower levies made during the war. The peak induction rate then was reached in February, 1943, when 406,374 men received greetings from the President and their draft board. And between August, 1941, and March, 1943, the monthly total never fell below 300,000.

Royall Makes Estimate

Secretary of the Army Royall made the estimate of monthly quotas today while answering a number of news conference questions about the plans for the second peacetime draft in history. He noted there are problems to be worked in getting the program started, but set forth the broad plan. It is thus:

The Army now has 542,000 men. It won't jump to the 837,000 immediately because funds for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, are not sufficient. So, by July 1, 1949, the size of the Army will be about 790,000.

When the Army does attain the full 837,000 strength it will consist of 12 regular Army divisions. Backstopping these regular divisions will be six National Guard divisions, and supporting elements such as anti-aircraft artillery and service troops. The guard divisions, like the regular Army outfits, will be at full strength, fully equipped and ready to go. The six guard divisions will not be the only ones, but will be those picked for building up quickly to fighting strength. Royall said when the new regular Army-National Guard strength goal is attained "we will be able to organize for the first time since the close of

National Emergency Is Declared By King

LONDON, June 28 (AP) — King George VI armed Prime Minister Attlee's Labor government tonight with sweeping powers to wage a finish fight with leaders of Britain's spreading dock strike.

At the government's request the King declared a state of national emergency. The Monarch's proclamation, when published tomorrow in the Royal Gazette, will enable Attlee's Cabinet to invoke the National Emergency Act of 1920. That act has not been used since the British general strike of 1926.

"Communist Mischief"

Attlee regards "Communist mischief" as being partly responsible for the unauthorized 15-day-old walkout. In a radio address tonight he declared his government "must see that the people are fed."

"I am sure the people of this country will support the government in the steps they have taken and are taking," the Prime Minister declared.

"Who advised you to do this?" Attlee asked the strikers.

Wants No Compromise

Earlier, Attlee told the House of Commons that he had no intention of suggesting a compromise with the strike leaders.

Under the National Emergency Act his government can requisition buildings and equipment and take over billeting for troops or voluntary workers. As an extreme measure persons found guilty of offenses against regulations set up under the act can be jailed for three months and fined $400.

The act does not, however, permit conscription of industry or workers. Neither does it provide any penalty for continuing a strike.

Ban On German Travel To Red Zone Is Lifted

Russians Say Rail Blockade Of Berlin Will Be Continued

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 29 (AP)—The Rusians lifted their ban on interzonal travel by Germans early today but announced that rail traffic to blockaded Berlin could not be resumed "for some time."

The Soviet-licensed news agency ADN, which reported the Russian announcement, said repairs on the Helmsdedt-Berlin line which brought vital supplies from the west "will still take some time."

The Russians suspended rail traffic from Helmstedt to the German capital eight days ago for "technical reasons."

The United States and Britain tried today to work an aviation miracle by flying food to 2,500,000 Berliners over the Russian land blockade.

The ADN report added that resumption of train traffic between Berlin and the western zones had met with further obstacles "because of the introduction of the new western zone currency into the western sectors of Berlin."

This, the Russian-licensed agency said, "is aimed at the destruction of the economy of the Soviet occupation zone and Berlin."

The lifting of the ban on interzonal travel apparently applies only to automobile and pedestrian traffic.

Draper, Wedemeyer Arrive

United States UnderSecretary of the Army William H. Draper Jr. and Lt. Gen. A. C. Wedemeyer, of the United States general staff, arrived in Berlin last night for conferences with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, the American commander in Germany. They will confer on the current Berlin crisis.

The United States and Britain tried yesterday to work an aviation miracle by flying food to 2,500,000 Berliners over the Soviet land blockade. After United States planes had flown a shuttle service to the city all day, American authorities announced the service was being put on a 24-hour-a-day schedule. An Air Force spokesman said, however, that not many planes will fly with supplies at night. The after-dark operation mostly will involve flights of planes returning to their base at Frankfurt from Berlin.

A British spokesman said it might be necessary to parachute food into the city if the air traffic becomes too heavy for British and United States airfields to handle. Only 13 British planes carrying supplies for the British community arrived today.

Transports To Leave U. S.

(The Caribbean Air Command headquarters in Panama announced last night the first two C-54 Skymasters of the United States 20th Troop Carrier Squadron will leave Albrock airbase early today for Frankfurt. The full complement of 12 planes will take off as soon as crews can gather up their equipment. They will fly to Germany via Bermuda and the Azores. It was

'48 GOP Nominees To Confer Today

PAWLING, N. Y., June 28 (AP)—The Governors of New York and California will sit down tomorrow in the quiet of Thomas E. Dewey's farm for their first heart-to-heart talk since they became the 1948 Republican nominees.

The chat will give Dewey and Gov. Earl Warren a chance to spell out details of the hard-hitting campaign they both have said they want.

Warren, his wife and three daughters are to arrive at 10:30 a. m. (EST) tomorrow to spend the day and possibly tomorrow night with the Dewey family. They will drive up from New York City.

Dewey said on the train coming from Philadelphia here that he was eager for a private talk with his running mate. He explained they never were able to get a minute alone in the jam-packed final hours of the national convention.

The presidential nominee's aides make no secret of the fact they are counting on Warren to bring in many additional Far West votes and specifically to carry California for the GOP national ticket for the first time since 1928. Warren never has been beaten in a bid for public office.

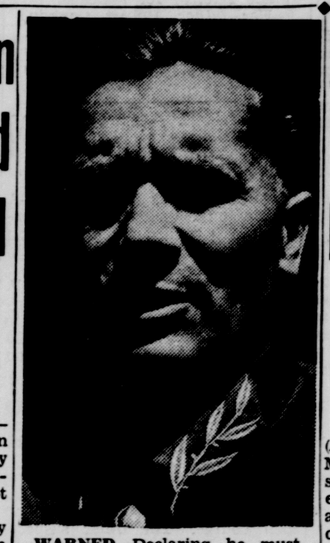

The nominees are expected to work out at least tentative plans for an extremely busy four months with most of the action concentrated in September and October.

Youth Shoots His Father In Defense Of Mother

MIDDLEBURG, Pa., June 28. (AP)—A 15-year-old youth, who said he shot in defense of his mother, was held today in the Snyder County jail in the rifle wounding of his father.

Sheriff Palmer E. Dinius said Joseph Balutis, Girardville, told him he shot his father "to make him stop abusing mother." No charges have been filed against the boy.

The father, Bryan Balutis, 37, was shot with a .22 calibre rifle in the abdomen, jaw and neck. He was taken to the Danville hospital where his condition was described as satisfactory.

WARNED—Declaring he must hew to the Moscow line or get out, Marshall Tito (above), leader of Yugoslav Communists, yesterday was denounced by the Cominform as pursuing a hateful policy toward Russia.

U. S. Ship Shelled Arab Lines, Syria Official Charges

Says Protest Made To Washington, U.N.

CAIRO, June 28 (AP)—The Syrian government has protested that a United States warship off the Palestine coast shelled Arab lines, a high Syrian official said tonight.

The protest was made to the United States and to Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations Palestine mediator, the official said.

This disclosure was made by Mahsen Al Barazi, Syrian minister of the interior, who described the warship as one of those which the United States recently placed at the disposal of Bernadotte.

Al Barazi, who claimed the action occurred during an Arab-Jewish battle in Northern Palestine two days ago, arrived in Cairo today for tomorrow's Arab League Political Committee meeting. He told this story to newsmen:

Casualties Reported

"Zionists forces recently attacked the town of Al Barwa about 12 kilometers along the coast inside Palestine, and occupied it in spite of the truce.

"The Arab liberation army headed by Fawzi Pasha Al Kaukji launched a counterattack, restoring the positions to those as when the truce started. During the battle, American planes circled over the Arab forces. A short while later Arab lines were shelled by an American warship placed at Bernadotte's disposal, resulting in casualties. We sent a strong protest today to American authorities in Damascus as well as to Count Bernadotte."

Al Barazi said Syria also had protested against a United States exchange of diplomatic representatives with Israel on grounds the action gives the Jews a political advantage during the truce.

Bernadotte's special Cairo representative, J. Escarati, said he knew nothing about the warship incident.

No Protest Received

(In Washington, the State Department said tonight it had received no official word on the Syrian protest. A department spokesman said American destroyers were in the Palestine area only as observers of the United Nations truce.

(The captains were under strict orders not to fire, not to search and not to board other vessels," the spokesman said.)

A dispatch to the Cairo newspaper, Al Ahram, from its correspondent in Saudi Arabia, said tonight official talks on the Holy Land problem between King Ibn Saud and King Abdullah, of Trans-Jordan, began yesterday in Riyadh.

Pocket Veto For Key Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — President Truman has applied a pocket veto to a bill which would have provided $65,000 for restoration of the home in Georgetown in which Francis Scott Key lived for 20 years.

The bill died when Mr. Truman failed to act on it within the required time. He gave no reason for his failure to sign it.

Follow Russia 'Or Else,' Yugo Leaders Told

Marshal Is Accused Of Pursuing Hateful Policy Toward USSR

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 28 (AP) — The Cominform denounced Marshall Tito's leadership of Yugoslav Communists today and declared he and other top Communists at Belgrade must hew to the Moscow line or get out.

The Cominform is the Moscow-blessed Communist International Information Bureau. It accused the Yugoslav leaders of pursuing a hateful and slanderous policy toward Russia and leaning their sympathies toward western methods.

The blast came in a 3,000-word resolution adopted at a meeting of the Cominform this month in Romania—a meeting where Yugoslav Communists, among the Cominform's founders, were not represented. It was published here today.

Marshal Tito and his top aides were accused of retreating from Marxism-Leninism by "undertaking an entirely wrong policy on the principal question of foreign and internal politics." The statement called for "either a true return to Marxist policy or a change of Communist leaders in Yugoslavia."

One section of the resolution indicated Tito and his chiefs might be given a chance to mend their ways before final action is taken. The resolution said in part:

Mend Ways Or Step Down

"The aim of these sound elements of the Communist Party of Yugoslavia is to force their present leading factors to confess openly and honestly their faults and correct them; to part from nationalism; to return to internationalism and in every way to fix the united socialistic front against imperialism. Or if the present leaders of the Communist Party of Yugoslavia prove unable to do this task, to change them and to raise from below a new internationalistic leadership of the Communist Party in Yugoslavia. The information bureau does not doubt that the Communist Party can fulfill this task."

Singled out for criticism were Tito, Vice-Premier Edvard Kardelj—one of the founders of the Cominform — Milovan Djilas, minister for Montenegro, one of the Yugoslav states, and Lt. Gen. Alexander Rankovic, who as minister of the interior has bossed Yugoslavia's police force.

There was immediate speculation that such a blast would be issued only after specific action had been taken against Tito, but no confirmation of this came from Belgrade. Carefully phrased dispatches from that capital said Tito was believed to be at his summer home at Bled.

Red Army Discredited

A. Zhdanov, a member of Russia's Politburo and often rated one of the three most powerful men in the Soviet Union, attended the meeting and signed its official statement. As published in Rude Pravo, official newspaper of the Czechoslovak Communist Party, it said the Yugoslav Communist leaders "created a hateful policy in relation to Soviet Russia and to the all-Communist Union of Bolsheviks."

An "undignified policy of underestimating Soviet military specialists was allowed" and members of the Russian army were discredited, it said.

The Cominform further contended that a slander propaganda campaign "borrowed from the arsenal of counter-revolutionary Trotz-

This source, who would not permit identification, said Lie has on his own initiative made tentative inqures of some members of the bg powers about bringing up the Berlin deadlock.

Lie's office would not comment on the report.

NLRB Attorneys Suggest Examiner Hold ITU Guilty

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — National Labor Relations Board attorneys today recommended that an NLRB trial examiner hold the AFL International Typographical Union guilty of unfair labor practices in its dealings with newspapers from coast to coast.

NLRB Attorneys Allen Sinsheimer, Jr., and Caroll L. Martin, acting for NLRB General Counsel Robert N. Denham, made the recommendations as a suggested order for NLRB Trial Examiner Arthur Leff.

Leff presided over six-month-long hearings on charges brought against the ITU and its officers, including Union President Woodruff Randolph, by the American Newspaper Publishers Association and the Chicago Newspaper Publishers Association.

The testimony and briefs, as well as the recommended order filed today, will be considered by Leff in making his report to the NLRB. The case probably will be considered by the five-man NLRB itself eventually.

The ITU and its officers have been restrained by a federal court injunction, obtained March 27, against continuing the alleged unfair labor practices involved in the case until Leff and the NLRB has a chance to pass on them.

In calling on Leff to find the union and its officers guilty of carrying on practices banned by the Taft-Hartley Labor Act, Sinsheimer and Martin said in a 160-page brief:

"The foregoing actions of the union and its utilization of numerous devices all designed to achieve the same illegal objectives illustrate the necessity for a most comprehensive order directed against the respondents (the ITU and its officers) to insure that there be no repetition of these violations."

50,000 Moslem Girls Abducted During Riots

KARACHI, Pakistan, June 28 (AP)—Raja Hazanfar Ali Khan, Pakistani minister of refugees, said today 50,000 young Moslem girls were abducted during last year's communal trouble in India.

He said only about 8,000 of them have been recovered.

Ghazanfar Ali Khan said he had definite proof many of the girls were taken overseas by Sikhs. Large numbers of them, he added, were kept by high Indian police and army officials in their harems.

Calvert County Approves Slot Machines' Licensing

PRINCE FREDERICK, Md., June 28 (AP) — Calvert County voters authorized licensing of slot machines by the county commissioners today.

In a referendum, they cast 1,724 votes in favor of licensing and 986 against, a complete unofficial tally showed.

Under a local bill pushed through a special General Assembly session a month ago by Sen. Louis L. Goldstein, a licensing law will become effective at once as a result of today's referendum.

The charge will net $150 annually for each of the first four machines. Operators of more than four will pay $150 for each additional machine costing up to $1,000.

Persons under 16 will not be permitted to play the machines.

The bill, as it passed the Legislature, provided the first revenue was to pay the expenses of the special election, the next $250,000 would be used for a new county hospital, and the remainder would go into the county's general fund.

The pre-referendum campaign did not stir up too much activity.

A group which signed itself "property owners and taxpayers" issued a statement saying the county's $2.17 tax rate is too high and that funds for a much-needed hospital could not be obtained by floating bonds.

"Nearly all the playing of slot machines is done by Washington people," the statement added.

The Civic Association of Calvert County campaigned with the slogan: "We need not sell our decency or character for the price of a hospital."

President Signs Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — America's $6,030,710,225 investment in global recovery became law today. President Truman, signing the act, called it concrete proof of this country's will toward "enduring peace and prosperity among all nations."

The appropriation, passed in the closing hours of the meeting of Congress, carries $4,000,000,000 for the European recovery program. This is only $245,000,000 less than Mr. Truman asked last December.

The fund, provided for a 15-month program, may all be spent in a year if the President considers it necessary.

At almost the same moment the money act was made effective, the State Department announced the first two formal agreements governing use of the funds and guaranteeing against wastage. Ireland signed in Dublin this morning and Italy in Rome this afternoon.

"Closely similar," pacts will be signed this week by most of the rest of Western Europe, it was announced. The agreements pledge each Marshall Plan country to strive for greater production, steady currency and increased trade as a basis for economic strength. Not mentioned is the further aim—to erect strong bulwarks against the spread of Communism.

The agreements also contain concessions to the United States, notably pledges to make available materials that are vitally needed for this country's national defense stockpiles.

Secretary of State Marshall, in a statement aimed mainly for ears across the Atlantic, emphasized that Europe must carry its share of the load. Americans now have demonstrated their confidence in the future of free nations, he said, continuing:

"The prospect for success of this great program lies in the determination of the people of Europe to work together to achieve recovery."

There was no mention whether Allied personnel would now be able to drive to Berlin on the Autobahn. This highway has been closed to eastbound military traffic since June 19 when the currency reform began in Western Germany.

The Soviet report stressed that only Germans with "valid" interzonal passes would be allowed into the Russian zone.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Berlin that Clay had conferred with Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany. If true, it would be the first time the two have met since the Russians walked out of the Allied Control Council March 20.

Girl, 11, Commutes To School By Air At Cost $6 Daily

NORTH BEND, Ore., June 28 (AP)—Deborah Conklin, 11, commutes daily to school 120 miles away.

She does it by commercial airliner—as resignedly bored as other youngsters riding a school bus.

She attends a special University of Oregon class at Eugene.

It costs $6 daily—$5 for the plane fare, $1 for taxicabs.

Her father, Robert Conklin, manager of a timber company mill here figures it costs less than her board would be in Eugene.

Newspaper Offers $5,000 Reward For Girl's Killer

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—A Washington newspaper today offered a $5,000 reward for information on the murder of pretty 11-year-old Carol Bardwell.

The girl, daughter of William P. Bardwell, a Federal Trade Commission examiner, was found in Rock Creek Park last night with her throat cut. She had gone on a bicycle trip through the park.

The Washington Times-Herald, in a front page box, offered $5,000 for "exclusive information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer x x x."

Meanwhile, police brought a young handyman to headquarters for questioning. He was booked on an open charge. The other suspects were also taken in for rigorous questioning during the day. One was a 34-year-old barber. Police declined to discuss the other man. A number of other persons were questioned briefly and then released.

Baltimorean, Daughter Die In Motorboat Blast

DUNDALK, Md., June 28. (AP)—A Baltimorean and his 10-year-old daughter died today when their motorboat exploded in Bear Creek and sank.

Two boys in the boat escaped.

Baltimore County police identified the dead as Chandler Twyford and his daughter, Gail.

The boys who escaped the blast were William Fox Payne, 14, and Richard Blair Long, 10, both of Edgemere.

Richard swam ashore and summoned aid. Young Payne was semi-conscious when pulled from the water by the operator of a speedboat who responded to Richard's calls for help.

Eisenhower Couldn't Refuse "True Draft," Elliott Roosevelt Asserts

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP)—Elliott Roosevelt said tonight Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower could not refuse "a true draft movement" at the Democratic national convention next month.

The son of the late President, in a speech at an "Eisenhower for President" rally by Americans for Democratic Action, added:

"The American people will be sorely disappointed if the best men that our political system can produce will be a choice between Dewey, Truman and Wallace."

Roosevelt said it was his impression that the American people "are completely dissatisfied" with the record of the Truman administration.

He also said the American voters would like to reject the Dewey-Warren ticket "just as they rejected the Republican ticket headed by the same Thomas E. Dewey in 1944."

Roosevelt added:

"I say that if the progressive Democrats of the north and the conservative Democrats of the South unite and declare their intention of nominating this man (Eisenhower) prior to the convention, and they demonstrate that this is a true draft movement, representing the desire of the rank and file of the Democrats of this country and the vast majority of the Republicans as well, then he cannot refuse such a mandate from the people."

Earlier, Eisenhower's office told the Associated Press there has been absolutely no change in the position publicly taken by Gen. Eisenhower on last January 23.

At that time, Eisenhower wrote "I could not accept the nomination even under the remote circumstances that it were tendered to me."

Eight Training Centers

The new draftees and recruits will get their basic military schooling at training centers established by eight regular Army training divisions, located at these places: Forts Ord, Calif.; Jackson, S. C.; Dix, N. J.; Knox, Ky.; Riley, Kans., and Camps Chafee, Ark.; Breckinridge, Ky.; Pickett, Va. The first four centers already are in operation, the others will be made ready.

In addition to the division training units, there will be training in units of sub-division size at Fort Bliss, Tex.; Camp Carson, Colo.; Fort Meade, Md.; Camp Cooke, Calif.; Fort Devens, Mass., and Fort Worden, Wash.

Along with the inductees and volunteers for the regular Army, there will be training for 18-year-olds who volunteer for one year service. (This plan is what was left of the original universal military training program which the administration wanted but Congress didn't favor.) These youngsters won't leave the United States.

However, the draftee may serve that part of his 21 months left after eight weeks of basic training either in the United States or overseas. Expiration of enlistments among overseas troops has developed a substantial troop replacement problem.

Japanese Figures Unreliable

The Japanese Welfare Ministry in Tokyo said it had a report that 350 persons were killed at Daishoji, a seashore town 20 miles northwest of Fukui. Occupation headquarters had a report of 10 dead and 60 hurt there.

(Unless Japanese figures are absolutely official, they usually should be considerably discounted, as they have proved unreliable in previous disasters.)

The Welfare Ministry estimated the number of "sufferers," including homeless, might reach 400,000.

The United States military government unit in Fukui reported to Tokyo that all Americans were safe but they lost almost all their possessions except their jeeps and a few office records when fire destroyed their headquarters and homes.

Fukui, an industrial center near the central north coast of Honshu—Japan's main island—was 85 per cent destroyed by American B-29 bombers in June, 1945. It since had been largely rebuilt, mostly of wood.

"All these facts," the statement said, "prove that the leading persons in the Communist Party of Yugoslavia took a standpoint unworthy of Communists."

It said they began to identify Russia's foreign policy "with that of the imperialistic powers" and to treat Russia "in the same manner as they treat the bourgeois states."

Inside Yugoslavia, the statement said, Communist leaders "are retreating from positions of the working class and are parting from the Marxist theory of class war. Capitalist elements in their country are growing."

The statement condemned the "purging and arresting" of two Yugoslav Communists "because they had dared to criticize the anti-Soviet conceptions of the leaders and to express themselves for the friendship of Yugoslavia with Soviet Russia." Where does a job come from?

from a storm?

Yes indeed! Every job had its beginning in somebody's brain storm—in a sudden, breath-taking idea for a new product, a finer service, a better method. But the idea alone is not enough—jobs come from the actual making and distributing of goods or services.

from a wire?

Certainly! It takes a live wire to find markets, design the product, specify materials, organize production, sell the finished goods at a profit. Without good management to direct all these operations capably, there would be no jobs worthy of the name.

from a log?

Absolutely! No company can operate without a backlog of working dollars, with which to build factories, buy materials and equipment, pay wages. Every job in modern industry represents an investment of at least $1,500 . . . in some industries, as much as $40,000!

Where do these working dollars come from? In a free country, they come from the people themselves. From millions of investors whose dollars make it possible for business to grow—to provide more and better jobs, to produce more and better goods. That's why the New York Stock Exchange believes it imperative that people have an incentive to save and invest. That's why our government's policies—particularly its tax policies—must be so shaped that investors are able, and willing, to put their dollars to work.

President Signs Foreign Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP) — America's $6,030,710,225 investment in global recovery became law today. President Truman, signing the act, called it concrete proof of this country's will toward "enduring peace and prosperity among all nations."

The appropriation, passed in the closing hours of the meeting of Congress, carries $4,000,000,000 for the European recovery program. This is only $245,000,000 less than Mr. Truman asked last December.

The fund, provided for a 15-month program, may all be spent in a year if the President considers it necessary.

At almost the same moment the money act was made effective, the State Department announced the first two formal agreements governing use of the funds and guaranteeing against wastage. Ireland signed in Dublin this morning and Italy in Rome this afternoon.

"Closely similar," pacts will be signed this week by most of the rest of Western Europe, it was announced. The agreements pledge each Marshall Plan country to strive for greater production, steady currency and increased trade as a basis for economic strength. Not mentioned is the further aim—to erect strong bulwarks against the spread of Communism.

The agreements also contain concessions to the United States, notably pledges to make available materials that are vitally needed for this country's national defense stockpiles.

Secretary of State Marshall, in a statement aimed mainly for ears across the Atlantic, emphasized that Europe must carry its share of the load. Americans now have demonstrated their confidence in the future of free nations, he said, continuing:

"The prospect for success of this great program lies in the determination of the people of Europe to work together to achieve recovery."

estimated this squadron could fly approximately 335,000 pounds of cargo to the Berlin area daily.)

There was no mention whether Allied personnel would now be able to drive to Berlin on the Autobahn. This highway has been closed to eastbound military traffic since June 19 when the currency reform began in Western Germany.

The Soviet report stressed that only Germans with "valid" interzonal passes would be allowed into the Russian zone.

Unconfirmed reports circulated in Berlin that Clay had conferred with Marshal Vassily D. Sokolovsky, Russian commander in Germany. If true, it would be the first time the two have met since the Russians walked out of the Allied Control Council March 20.

Girl, 11, Commutes To School By Air At Cost $6 Daily

NORTH BEND, Ore., June 28 (AP)—Deborah Conklin, 11, commutes daily to school 120 miles away.

She does it by commercial airliner—as resignedly bored as other youngsters riding a school bus.

She attends a special University of Oregon class at Eugene.

It costs $6 daily—$5 for the plane fare, $1 for taxicabs.

Her father, Robert Conklin, manager of a timber company mill here figures it costs less than her board would be in Eugene.

Newspaper Offers $5,000 Reward For Girl's Killer

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—A Washington newspaper today offered a $5,000 reward for information on the murder of pretty 11-year-old Carol Bardwell.

The girl, daughter of William P. Bardwell, a Federal Trade Commission examiner, was found in Rock Creek Park last night with her throat cut. She had gone on a bicycle trip through the park.

The Washington Times-Herald, in a front page box, offered $5,000 for "exclusive information leading to the arrest and conviction of the slayer x x x."

Meanwhile, police brought a young handyman to headquarters for questioning. He was booked on an open charge. The other suspects were also taken in for rigorous questioning during the day. One was a 34-year-old barber. Police declined to discuss the other man. A number of other persons were questioned briefly and then released.

Baltimorean, Daughter Die In Motorboat Blast

DUNDALK, Md., June 28. (AP)—A Baltimorean and his 10-year-old daughter died today when their motorboat exploded in Bear Creek and sank.

Two boys in the boat escaped.

Baltimore County police identified the dead as Chandler Twyford and his daughter, Gail.

The boys who escaped the blast were William Fox Payne, 14, and Richard Blair Long, 10, both of Edgemere.

Richard swam ashore and summoned aid. Young Payne was semi-conscious when pulled from the water by the operator of a speedboat who responded to Richard's calls for help.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 28 (AP)—More than 200 delegates attended the opening meeting of the fifteenth annual convention of the American Newspaper Guild (CIO) today. The sessions will run through Friday.

NEW YORK, June 28 (AP)—Movie Actress Marlene Dietrich became a grandmother today when her 24-year-old daughter, Mrs. William Riva, gave birth to an eight-pound boy.

Eisenhower Couldn't Refuse "True Draft," Elliott Roosevelt Asserts

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP)—Elliott Roosevelt said tonight Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower could not refuse "a true draft movement" at the Democratic national convention next month.

The son of the late President, in a speech at an "Eisenhower for President" rally by Americans for Democratic Action, added:

"The American people will be sorely disappointed if the best men that our political system can produce will be a choice between Dewey, Truman and Wallace."

Roosevelt said it was his impression that the American people "are completely dissatisfied" with the record of the Truman administration.

He also said the American voters would like to reject the Dewey-Warren ticket "just as they rejected the Republican ticket headed by the same Thomas E. Dewey in 1944."

Roosevelt added:

"I say that if the progressive Democrats of the north and the conservative Democrats of the South unite and declare their intention of nominating this man (Eisenhower) prior to the convention, and they demonstrate that this is a true draft movement, representing the desire of the rank and file of the Democrats of this country and the vast majority of the Republicans as well, then he cannot refuse such a mandate from the people."

Earlier, Eisenhower's office told the Associated Press there has been absolutely no change in the position publicly taken by Gen. Eisenhower on last January 23.

At that time, Eisenhower wrote "I could not accept the nomination even under the remote circumstances that it were tendered to me."

Bainbridge May Reopen

WASHINGTON, June 28 (AP)—The Bainbridge (Md.) Naval Training Station will be reactivated for indoctrination of draftees if the Budget Bureau approves an application for funds, Sen. Tydings (D-Md.) said today.

Army, Hikes

Eight Training Centers

The new draftees and recruits will get their basic military schooling at training centers established by eight regular Army training divisions, located at these places: Forts Ord, Calif.; Jackson, S. C.; Dix, N. J..; Knox, Ky.; Riley, Kans., and Camps Chafee, Ark.; Breckinridge, Ky.; Pickett, Va. The first four centers already are in operation, the others will be made ready.

In addition to the division training units, there will be training in units of sub-division size at Fort Bliss, Tex.; Camp Carson, Colo.; Fort Meade, Md.; Camp Cooke, Calif.; Fort Devens, Mass., and Fort Worden, Wash.

Along with the inductees and volunteers for the regular Army, there will be training for 18-year-olds who volunteer for one year service. (This plan is what was left of the original universal military training program which the administration wanted but Congress didn't favor.) These youngsters won't leave the United States.

However, the draftee may serve that part of his 21 months left after eight weeks of basic training either in the United States or overseas. Expiration of enlistments among overseas troops has developed a substantial troop replacement problem.

Earthquake, Fire

200 miles west of Tokyo near the Sea of Japan. By Japanese standards the area is sparsely populated.

Japanese Figures Unreliable

The Japanese Welfare Ministry in Tokyo said it had a report that 350 persons were killed at Daishoji, a seashore town 20 miles northwest of Fukui. Occupation headquarters had a report of 10 dead and 60 hurt there.

(Unless Japanese figures are absolutely official, they usually should be considerably discounted, as they have proved unreliable in previous disasters.)

The Welfare Ministry estimated the number of "sufferers," including homeless, might reach 400,000.

The United States military government unit in Fukui reported to Tokyo that all Americans were safe but they lost almost all their possessions except their jeeps and a few office records when fire destroyed their headquarters and homes.

Fukui, an industrial center near the central north coast of Honshu—Japan's main island—was 85 per cent destroyed by American B-29 bombers in June, 1945. It since had been largely rebuilt, mostly of wood.

Girls He Glamorized Sob At Carroll's Funeral

GLENDALE, Calif., June 28. (AP)—Funeral services were held today for Showman Earl Carroll as the girls he glamorized watched and wept.

All of the several score girls from Carroll's theater-restaurant revue were present to pay final respects to the gaunt producer, 54, who was killed with 42 others in the crash of a United Airlines DC-6 near Mount Carmel, Pa., June 17.

Rev. A. J. Soldan officiated at services in the Church of the Recessional at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

kyism" was conducted against Russia. This campaign, it said, pictured Russia as degenerate.

"All these facts," the statement said, "prove that the leading persons in the Communist Party of Yugoslavia took a standpoint unworthy of Communists."

It said they began to identify Russia's foreign policy "with that of the imperialistic powers" and to treat Russia "in the same manner as they treat the bourgeois states."

Inside Yugoslavia, the statement said, Communist leaders "are retreating from positions of the working class and are parting from the Marxist theory of class war. Capitalist elements in their country are growing."

The statement condemned the "purging and arresting" of two Yugoslav Communists "because they had dared to criticize the anti-Soviet conceptions of the leaders and to express themselves for the friendship of Yugoslavia with Soviet Russia." (M. Zujovic was dismissed as finance minister and Andre Hebrang as chairman of light industry in a government shakeup last month.)

Ruling on Labor Act Clause Common Sense One

The ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States that the Taft-Hartley Act's ban on political expenditures and contributions by a union does not bar editorial indorsement of a political candidate for federal office is in accord with logic and common sense.

The section in dispute amends the federal Corrupt Practices Act by applying to unions the same restrictions that is imposed on corporations. To give it the broad application that the government attempted was untenable.

Basis for the suit was a statement by CIO President Philip Murray in the union's official organ indorsing a candidate for Congress in Maryland. The statement was designedly made to provide a judicial test. The Department of Justice promptly obliged by having the union and Murray indicted. What the union sought was a finding that the prohibition on political contributions and expenditures was unconstitutional as applied to organized labor. This it failed to get.

Having decided that Congress did not intend the extreme construction indicated by the government, the court majority refused to pass on the constitutional issue. This conforms to judicial precedent to go no further in the adjudication of a statute than is required by the circumstances involved. Yet to this stand the liberal minority—Justices Ruthledge, Black, Murphy and Douglas—that has at times been most vocal in support of the precedent, dissented. It wanted the section invalidated.

Though incurring in the dismissal of the indictment, Justice Frankfurter put his finger on the flaw in the case in his reference to the haste of the Department of Justice and the union to get an adjudication. Their action, he said indicated that "at least unwittingly one was the ally of the other in bringing before the court far-reaching questions of constitutionality under circumstances which all the best teachings of this court admonished us not to entertain."

This adroitly expressed rebuke of the principals is a lesson to be heeded, especially by the Department of Justice, in further litigation over the act.

Will the Democrats Repudiate Pres. Truman?

The Republicans had hardly packed their bags and left Philadelphia before the Democrats started moving in. The Democratic show may not be as colorful as that staged by the GOP, but it will be an important event in party history, and from it could emerge a situation which would have a lasting effect on its fortunes.

Undoubtedly there will be an effort to prevent the nomination of President Truman, resulting in bitter feuds. To repudiate a White House incumbent is drastic action, but it has been resorted to in two instances where a Vice President succeeded a President who died.

There is little doubt that Truman will be nominated unless he should withdraw before or during the convention. But if his nomination is accompanied by a split in the party, there will be wounds which will be a long time in healing.

In any event, the Democratic convention will not be a cut and dried affair. There will be plenty of feudin' and the South, which resents domination of the party by the big machines of the North, intends to make itself heard. At the present time, there are signs that some southern states which have been hostile to Mr. Truman may be brought back into line for him should he (as he has so often done on other explosive issues) backtrack on his civil rights measure. Of course, that would be no indication he has changed his mind on what he has already demanded from Congress—merely political expediency.

It would be a course of recklessness to bet that the Democratic Party, which often in the past has provided the most colorful conventions, will not provide plenty of fireworks in Philadelphia.

Ludmilla Says No

It would have been interesting to see the expressions on the faces of photographers at the airport at Boston. Ludmilla Widowsky, a 19-year-old German blonde, had flown in to marry Harry Gale an American. The picture-takers pounced upon the couple as they greeted each other. "O. K., kids. How about a good, big kiss for the newspapers and newsreels?" Or words to that effect.

What the lady said was enough to shake the photographers' long-established faith in the readiness of girls to kiss for the cameras. She said: "I don't know him well enough for that."

It was true that the pair were engaged to marry. Even allowing for the fact that Ludmilla had never seen her Harry—the courtship having been by mail—the photographers may be pardoned for supposing that a kiss now was in order. But Ludmilla fooled 'em. She might be engaged to marry the guy, all right, but a kiss with her was a kiss—a personal and private matter that neither Harry nor the photographers could rush her into.

Nice going, Ludmilla. You are a refreshing piece of feminity in these days of offhand kissing by command of bored photographers. But, if it is not asking too much, the Boston press should be permitted to cover the wedding. By that time, perhaps, Ludmilla might let herself go for a polite and persuasive camera man.

Lo, the Poor Elephant

A Republican Congress, if it is at all cartoon-conscious would naturally be interested in the care and feeding of elephants. So it is not surprising to learn that it passed a bill which would provide, among other things, for more humane treatment of elephants in this country.

It adopted the measure after learning that a pachydermatous shipload, fresh from the humid heat of India, had arrived on the deck of a ship in February, "practically unprotected from the icy salt waves that broke over them. The elephants were white with salt, shivering and moaning and very near death." It shouldn't happen to an elephant.

President Truman, who is allergic to elephants, might try vetoing that one.

If anybody ever gets a copyright on the phrase, "My Fellow Americans," convention orators will be badly handicapped.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Controlling Diabetes

No one knows exactly how many diabetics there are in this country. The estimates of different authorities and organizations vary from 500,000 to one million. Much depends upon the methods used in calculation. Those who are attempting to show how high the rate is are more likely to make liberal adjustments in their totals, whereas the opposite is true among the conservatives. At any rate, the true figure probably lies somewhere between the two extremes.

Dr. Van Dellen

It is a fact that there are many diabetics who are not aware at this time that they have the condition. A recent survey in a small eastern town demonstrated this point. Urine and blood tests were made on every one available—the sick and the healthy. It was surprising how many cases were uncovered in individuals who had no idea that the disease was present. If this were done all over the United States, an increase in the total number undoubtedly would be noted.

It has been estimated that 2.9 per cent of our population are potential diabetics—candidates who can expect to develop the malady at some time during their lives. As it is, 55,000 new cases occur annually. The United States has one of the highest death rates from diabetes in the world. This is not due to neglect; we have more victims as well as better facilities for making the diagnosis. Furthermore, since the discovery of insulin, such patients live longer. Statistics from the Baker clinic in Boston show that between 1897 and 1914 the mortality among ten year old sufferers was 824 per 1,000 cases. This means that few youngsters survived the ordeal. Between 1929 and 1938, the death rate dropped to 8.1 per 1,000 and diabetics are now said to live three times longer than before. Such data are undeniable proof of the importance of insulin.

As a rule, diabetes is more serious in children than adults hence young persons have a greater need for this product. When the ailment appears late in life, less is usually demanded; some even do well on diet alone. But, regardless of age, each victim is an individual problem. One may require 8 units of insulin; another, 80. The same can be said of the exact proportion of carbohydrates, fats, and proteins in the menus.

After the malady is diagnosed, the first step is to bring it under control. In calculating the diet and the dose of insulin, the weight of the patient and the severity of the disease are taken into consideration. Once started, changes are made until the urine becomes sugar-free and the amount of glycogen in the blood at a respectable level. It is not unusual, after this stage is reached, to find that less insulin is needed. The meals too can often be made more pleasant; in this way the sufferer is happier and more cooperative.

The best results are obtained when the diabetic spends the first two weeks of his illness in a hospital. The urine can be analyzed several times daily and brought under control more rapidly. In addition, the patient has an opportunity to learn all he should know about his disease. By the time he leaves, he can do his own laboratory work, figure the diet, and give himself injections. He is now self-sufficient, understands what to do in an emergency, and appreciates the importance of details.

Defect of the Feet

Altho there are many theories, the exact cause is unknown. Since a family tendency exists, heredity is a possibility. In others, the defect develops because the feet are held in an abnormal position within the uterus.

The cause cannot always be found but in many cases, bacteria and digestive ferments find their way into the organ and set up irritation. The prevention of subsequent attacks is often difficult unless a definite cause can be found which can be corrected via surgery.

GOP Nominees Among Best Men In America; Republican Convention Forgot That We Are Living In An Atomic Age; Republicans Defeated Isolationists

Says DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter.)

Washington, D. C.
June 29, 1948

Mrs. George L. Arnold,
Los Angeles, Calif.
My dear daughter,

Last week I attended the Republican National Convention. And I could not help but wonder as I watched the parades and the enthusiasm and the milling delegates whether they realized that what they did at Philadelphia might affect the lives of your son and millions of other youngsters almost as much as the Declaration of Independence which other delegates signed in the same city 30 blocks away a century and a half ago.

It was quite a respectable convention—no excessive drinking, no under-the-table deals that I could discover except on patronage; not even any rebel yells or that passionate frenzy that makes democratic conventions more exciting. The pillars of home-town respectability were there, uninspiring perhaps, but determined.

They nominated two good men—among the best in the country. Furthermore they nominated them in free and open competition, the healthiest thing about the Republican race and the exact opposite of the dog-in-manger attitude of certain Democratic presidents.

Unlike the Democrats, the Republicans have developed some tough, hard-working leaders, and their convention benefited from it.

Politics Forgets Atomic Energy

Of course the lady who runs our house was disappointed that her candidate, Senator Taft, wasn't nominated. And I have to agree with her that Bob Taft will go down in history for his spunk and courage and honesty.

But I think Taft forgets one great thing—the thing, incidentally, that was missed by nearly all the speakers and delegates at this convention—namely that we are living in an atomic age—an age that moves so fast we dare not take one false step for fear we get left behind.

That was what so many speakers seemed to forget at this convention.

Squeezed almost off the front pages by the political news was alarming word from Berlin that the Russians once again were trying to push us out of Berlin. Almost squeezed off the front pages also was news that President Truman had signed the peacetime draft—probably the most momentous legislation in recent history.

In other words we face the prospect of war again within our generation. We face the prospect that that son of yours, and thousands of other sons, may have to march off to another war.

This was the most important thing the Republicans overlooked.

Isolationists Bore From Within

They overlooked it partly because they couldn't afford to face it, partly because they were so busy fighting a rear-guard action against the isolationists within their own ranks—the leaders who still think The U.S.A. can remain aloof from the world. Your cousin Bertie McCormick put up the chief fight on this point. That was the reason he walked out of the convention at the end rather than vote for Dewey—also why he refused to let the Illinois Delegation, over which he remained supreme, support anyone but Taft.

To the bitter end, Cousin Bertie and his Chicago Tribune remained aloof and alone—the way they would like to have the United States.

That is one issue the Democratic Party hasn't had to worry about, and is one reason their leadership on foreign affairs has been much more farsighted.

Though the Republicans at Philadelphia finally defeated the isolationists, they dared not move forward. Instead they looked backward. Most of the speakers spent their time lambasting their favorite whipping boys, Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Dangerous New Deal

One would have thought, from hearing their orations, that no other problem existed in the world, no Russian squeeze in Berlin, no race to develop atomic energy, no danger of bomb raids over the North Pole—only the deadly danger of the New Deal.

GOP orators talked as if they actually and seriously thought the American people would stand for the repeal of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Wage-Hour Act, the AAA Farm Act, soil erosion, the Holding Corporation Act, the Social Security Act, old age pensions, rural electrification, or the Tennessee Valley Authority.

They talked as if they didn't realize that the man whom they nominated to head their ticket had adopted many of these "revolutionary" measures in his own state of New York; or as if they did not know their vice-presidential candidate had adopted many of these same ideas in California.

What they honestly didn't seem to realize is that most of the New Deal is too firmly a part of America ever to be given up; that what the American people want is forward leadership not backward regrets.

In the humble opinion of your Dad, what the American people are really looking for is security—of two kinds. The security they want from war abroad is obvious, though difficult to get. The security they want at home is easier—if the new leaders of the Republican party really lead.

That domestic security consists of freedom from inflation, freedom to earn a living wage, freedom to send their children to good schools, freedom from want in old age.

And that security will not be obtained if people in the lower brackets are not able to buy, or if the recent GOP plan to forgive-the-rich on taxes is continued, or if the real-estate lobby throttles public housing, or if our long cherished public-school system plays second fiddle to tax saving.

Those are some of the things which Republican orators, so busy whipping the New Deal, neglected at Philadelphia.

I am reasonably sure that broad-guaged leaders such as Dewey and Warren will not neglect them. But their greatest handicap may be the dead weight of the reactionaries inside the Republican party.

That was the most important fact that stood out at Philadelphia, and that is what the American people will have to watch when they go to the polls next November.

Please excuse this long political letter.

Love from,
THE OLD MAN.

P. S. On page 115 of Life this week is a picture of Cinder, the kitten you once had at school. You have been away so long that she has now adopted me.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Last On Conventions

The convention device is too primitive to be of continued value. Certainly, the business of selecting a President of the United States ought to be a more serious business, a more sober procedure. Jiggling girls, prancing on the rostrum, hired kids shouting from the balconies, milling men and women who managed to get tickets but representing nothing do not present a picture of calm deliberation.

The various committees of arrangements in the future ought to set up rules which would prevent candidates from filling the galleries with so-called "youths" who are there to cheer and boo and act like fools and hoodlums. There was not one spontaneous ovation and demonstration when any candidate was nominated, nor were all or even most who milled about on the floor delegates. The kids were given assistant sergeant-at-arms badges to get in and plently got in without any badges or any tickets.

Fun is fun, but a convention to select a President is neither a circus nor a vaudeville show—and all this juvenile stuff ought to cease forthwith and forever. And another disgrace is the agreement by which the convention is prolonged and dragged out to make it last long enough to satisfy the merchants and hotel keepers who put up some money to bring the show to their town. All the doing at the Republican convention could have been over on Wednesday if the business had been efficiently managed. But it was permitted to drag and drag endlessly.

Joe Martin may be a wonderful Speaker of the House of Representatives but he could not keep this convention in order and moving, probably because it had to waste time to please the hotels. Also, Joe must have had a love for the demonstrations because he let them continue long after they were well over.

Unless you have seen these ovations, you cannot imagine how silly they are. Men and women walk about with their candidate's name or singing his theme song. The Voice of the Sewer at the 1944 Chicago convention may have been ridiculous, but the voice of George Bender singing the Four Leaf Clover song was equally stupid and ugly. It did not make a vote for Senator Taft.

Someone has to break through this silly tradition, for no better word describes it than silly. It costs party managers large fortunes and makes the convention itself ridiculous. It looks like tomfoolery, which it is. Or is it possible that this imbecilic galavanting is necessary to keep the delegates from being bored?

Television will in time spoil all this, but it will never end until some candidate can get himself nominated without it. Senator Homer Ferguson broke one tradition when he seconded Vandenberg without making one of those enormous five-minute speeches that uniformly say nothing but go on everlastingly. He cut through that ice, but as his man was not nominated, it made little impression on the convention. Maybe some day someone will kill off the demonstration and ovation.

Also, the committees on arrangement might pick a cool town for a late June convention, some place where there is a breeze and a little freshness of atmosphere. The heat at the Philadelphia show was unbearable and I can only pity the poor Democrats who will meet in the middle of July. Why not take such a convention to the Adirondacks or to the Yellowstone National Park? Why pick a hot spot? Is it to keep the delegates from thinking of anything but the weather?

I am not griping. I am crusading against dopey traditions that hang on because there is insufficient courage to kill them. I am protesting against stupidity. I want to shame the party managers. I want to stimulate anger in the delegates. Maybe it cannot be done. Maybe they think that is the way to pick a President of the United States.

Dewey's Election Will Mean Liberalism With Efficiency

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 28—If, as so many observers are predicting, Governor Dewey and Governor Warren respectively are elected president and vice president, it means the end of an epoch in American politics—the end of a standpat and reactionary conservatism as the dominating influence of the Republican party.

It means, moreover, the inauguration of a Republican "New Deal" on January 20, 1949.

It will not resemble the Roosevelt "New Deal" which, despite its veneer of liberalism and worth-while achievements in the field of social legislation, nevertheless was no better in its political morals than its predecessors—using public funds to favor certain groups and special interests and thus win elections. That whole sordid story is now being revealed piecemeal in various magazine articles by former cabinet members of the Roosevelt regime.

New Deal With Efficiency

Instead it will be a "New Deal" of liberalism with efficiency and integrity that Dewey will introduce—it might be called the "Square Deal" if it is sloganized at all. It will resemble mostly the progressivism of Theodore Roosevelt days which jolted the standpat conservatism of the Republican Party just 40 years ago.

Businessmen as a whole have undergone a transformation since then and most of them today will welcome a fair and intelligent conservatism suited to the times—though, to be sure, a powerful group of businessmen of the ultraconservative school will certainly be found criticizing the Dewey administration bitterly one year after it takes office.

For the Republican Party has by no means finished its evolution. The struggle for mastery inside the party will go on as always. It will manifest itself on labor relations, taxation and foreign policy issues involving funds for European aid. The weakness of the ultra conservatives has been their slavish devotion to political ideas that have become obsolete at a time when the phrase "public interest" must be applied to a nation of big population affected directly in its welfare and standards of living by big business and big unionism, both of which sometimes overreach themselves in the exercise of economic power.

Minimum of Entanglements

Dewey owes this nomination in part to the confusion and disagreements among the conservatives at the convention. He was not averse to wooing some of them in the larger states, thus splitting their ranks still more. But, broadly speaking, Dewey came out of the contest with a minimum of entanglements.

While it looked like an easy victory, actually the New York governor was in danger of defeat by a coalition. Fortunately for him the conservative group which could only have blocked him by rallying around Vandenberg—because he was plainly the only man to whom the Dewey forces would have capitulated in a deadlock—didn't like Vandenberg. The Michigan senator really lost the nomination in the last two weeks after he antagonized House Republicans and conservatives. He courageously fought them, thus compelling the House to restore the "meat-axe" cuts it had made in the European Recovery Program. The situation was further complicated by the inability of Taft or Stassen to see that neither could win. The rise of a Vandenberg bandwagon through the early acquisition of Taft and Stassen votes would have scared away the very votes for Dewey that brought him his extra support on the second ballot.

Dewey Efficient, Well Trained

Governor Dewey is efficient and sufficiently trained in politics to avoid the excessive zeal that converts leadership into dictatorship—though his critics fear that is his tendency. Men like Senator Taft and Representatives Halleck and Taber are independent-minded persons who do not like to take orders, so they will have to be handled with care by Dewey. A battle is inevitable on certain issues, because conservatives never have accepted progressive doctrine without a battle.

Governor Dewey is free to become a Theodore Roosevelt or a Franklin Roosevelt in his relations with his party in Congress. He doesn't resemble either man in personality or behavior, but he will adopt something of the tactics that each displayed in exercising leadership by influencing public opinion and thus dominating Congress.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

Smell Of Munich Or Risk Of War?

WASHINGTON

EXCITEMENT over the strange quadrennial rites of the political conventions has tended to obscure one grim fact. That is that within ten to twenty days the United States (and England and France) may have to take the most crucial decision since the war. The Soviet blockade on food and supplies for Berlin may soon be lifted. But if it is not, the Berlin population will begin to starve in less than three weeks. And the Western powers will then have to decide whether to leave Berlin or to find some way to force the Soviets to reopen the supply lines.

Moreover, even if, as has been reported, the Russians soon lift or modify their blockade of the western sectors of Berlin, the cat-and-mouse game which the Russians have started will not be played out, for the Soviets are clearly determined to force the Western powers out of the German capital. And short of shooting, blockade is the only Soviet weapon to achieve that end.

It is interesting that even now, although lights are burning late in the State Department and in the British and French Foreign Offices, no final decision on the Western reaction to a continued blockade has been taken. It has not been taken simply because it is hoped almost desperately that it will never have to be taken.

This hope springs from the fact that the Soviet weapon—blockade and the starving of the German population in Berlin—has one grave and evident weakness. The Russians are now using every means at their disposal, including the most overt appeals to German nationalism, to win the German people to their side in the struggle to gain control of all Germany. And starving people are not usually warmly inclined to those responsible for their starvation.

Therefore, it is the short-range intention of the Western powers to exploit this Soviet weakness to the utmost, if the Soviets continue their blockade. Trucks and railway cars will be filled with food and supplies for the hungry Germans of Berlin, and drawn up at the borders of the Soviet and Western zones, a few hours out of Berlin. Every medium of information, including the radio and the Western-licensed Berlin press, will be used to make it known to the Berliners that these supplies are available if the Russians will let the trucks and trains through.

Thus, if the Berliners are to starve, they will at least know who is responsible for their starvation. It is hoped and believed that for political reasons the Soviets cannot afford to accept this responsibility. Yet it is certainly possible that the strategists in the Kremlin, either now or later, may decide that the prize of a Western evacuation of Berlin is worth the price of the hatred of some millions of impotent Germans. What then?

That question was clearly paramount some weeks ago when one of these correspondents predicted from Berlin the blockade which the Soviets have now instituted. The final answer to the question does not depend on General Lucius Clay, General Sir Brian Robertson or the other Western officials on the spot. Since it is a matter involving peace or war, it depends rather on decisions made in Washington, London and Paris, decisions that have not yet been taken. Yet in Berlin the question has been a subject of anxious discussion at all levels of the Western command, and the alternative Western responses to a continued Soviet blockade have for weeks been grimly obvious.

The Western powers can leave Berlin, having first announced that they are leaving only to save the German population from the starvation with which Russian actions have threatened them. The Soviet Union could then be forced out of the United Nations for flagrant breach of treaties, and the whole Soviet sphere isolated from the rest of the world while a constant vigilant guard is posted around it. Certain subsidiary measures could be taken; for example, there has been discussion of the possibility of flying out to the safety of the Western zones the several thousand Berlin Germans who have most courageously fought the Communists.

Yet there is no use blinking the fact that a Western evacuation of Berlin, even under these circumstances, would have a strong smell of Munich. The alternative is somehow to force the Soviets to re-open the supply lines into Berlin. No one, either in Berlin or Washington, is certain just how this could be done. How force the Russians, for example, to repair a railway bridge which they have allowed to break down? As one official put it: "You can't repair a railway with tommy-gunners and tanks." And whatever technique is used to force the re-opening of the supply lines, the risk of war is always implicit, however small the risk may be.

Election year or no election year, and whether or not the Soviets now temporarily ease the blockade, the Western response to Soviet pressure in Berlin is clearly a subject which requires plenty of hard, sober thought.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

It seems the new small cars are becoming the rage now. Their price is under a thousand dollars and you get from 25 to 50 miles on a gallon with them.

I won't say the cars are small, but one guy I know opened up a used car checkerboard.

They come in all colors, the same as jelly beans and they really are great for the woman shopper. She doesn't have to worry about parking. She just gets out and puts it on her head like a hat.

The advantages are numerous. You don't need brakes. You stick your head out the window and sneeze into the wind.

And you don't have to worry about traffic regulations . . . you drive down the middle of the white line in complete safety.

But, best of all, they're so economical. You can put your hand out to make a turn and pick up cigar butts at the same time.

But one guy made the mistake of parking near a baby carriage. When he got back he discovered the kid was using the spare tire for a teething ring.

They're making convertibles, too. But right now the top doesn't come down. Instead, they give you a can opener with every car.

They are becoming so popular the car companies are hiring midget finance men.

Ruling on Labor Act Clause Common Sense One

The ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States that the Taft-Hartley Act's ban on political expenditures and contributions by a union does not bar editorial indorsement of a political candidate for federal office is in accord with logic and common sense.

The section in dispute amends the federal Corrupt Practices Act by applying to unions the same restrictions that is imposed on corporations. To give it the broad application that the government attempted was untenable.

Basis for the suit was a statement by CIO President Philip Murray in the union's official organ indorsing a candidate for Congress in Maryland. The statement was designedly made to provide a judicial test. The Department of Justice promptly obliged by having the union and Murray indicted. What the union sought was a finding that the prohibition on political contributions and expenditures was unconstitutional as applied to organized labor. This it failed to get.

Having decided that Congress did not intend the extreme construction indicated by the government, the court majority refused to pass on the constitutional issue. This conforms to judicial precedent to go no further in the adjudication of a statute than is required by the circumstances involved. Yet to this stand the liberal minority—Justices Ruthledge, Black, Murphy and Douglas—that has at times been most vocal in support of the precedent, dissented. It wanted the section invalidated.

Though incurring in the dismissal of the indictment, Justice Frankfurter put his finger on the flaw in the case in his reference to the haste of the Department of Justice and the union to get an adjudication. Their action, he said indicated that "at least unwittingly one was the ally of the other in bringing before the court far-reaching questions of constitutionality under circumstances which all the best teachings of this court admonished us not to entertain."

This adroitly expressed rebuke of the principals is a lesson to be heeded, especially by the Department of Justice, in further litigation over the act.

The elephants were white with salt, shivering and moaning and very near death." It shouldn't happen to an elephant.

President Truman, who is allergic to elephants, might try vetoing that one.

If anybody ever gets a copyright on the phrase, "My Fellow Americans," convention orators will be badly handicapped.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

Controlling Diabetes

No one knows exactly how many diabetics there are in this country. The estimates of different authorities and organizations vary from 500,000 to one million. Much depends upon the methods used in calculation. Those who are attempting to show how high the rate is are more likely to make liberal adjustments in their totals, whereas the opposite is true among the conservatives. At any rate, the true figure probably lies somewhere between the two extremes.

Dr. Van Dellen

It is a fact that there are many diabetics who are not aware at this time that they have the condition. A recent survey in a small eastern town demonstrated this point. Urine and blood tests were made on every one available—the sick and the healthy. It was surprising how many cases were uncovered in individuals who had no idea that the disease was present. If this were done all over the United States, an increase in the total number undoubtedly would be noted.

It has been estimated that 2.9 per cent of our population are potential diabetics—candidates who can expect to develop the malady at some time during their lives. As it is, 55,000 new cases occur annually. The United States has one of the highest death rates from diabetes in the world. This is not due to neglect; we have more victims as well as better facilities for making the diagnosis. Furthermore, since the discovery of insulin, such patients live longer. Statistics from the Baker clinic in Boston show that between 1897 and 1914 the mortality among ten year old sufferers was 824 per 1,000 cases. This means that few youngsters survived the ordeal. Between 1929 and 1938, the death rate dropped to 8.1 per 1,000 and diabetics are now said to live three times longer than before. Such data are undeniable proof of the importance of insulin.

As a rule, diabetes is more serious in children than adults hence young persons have a greater need for this product. When the ailment appears late in life, less is usually demanded; some even do well on diet alone. But, regardless of age, each victim is an individual problem. One may require 8 units of insulin; another, 80. The same can be said of the exact proportion of carbohydrates, fats, and proteins in the menus.

After the malady is diagnosed, the first step is to bring it under control. In calculating the diet and the dose of insulin, the weight of the patient and the severity of the disease are taken into consideration. Once started, changes are made until the urine becomes sugar-free and the amount of glycogen in the blood at a respectable level. It is not unusual, after this stage is reached, to find that less insulin is needed. The meals too can often be made more pleasant; in this way the sufferer is happier and more cooperative.

The best results are obtained when the diabetic spends the first two weeks of his illness in a hospital. The urine can be analyzed several times daily and brought under control more rapidly. In addition, the patient has an opportunity to learn all he should know about his disease. By the time he leaves, he can do his own laboratory work, figure the diet, and give himself injections. He is now self-sufficient, understands what to do in an emergency, and appreciates the importance of details.

Defect of the Feet

Altho there are many theories, the exact cause is unknown. Since a family tendency exists, heredity is a possibility. In others, the defect develops because the feet are held in an abnormal position within the uterus.

The cause cannot always be found but in many cases, bacteria and digestive ferments find their way into the organ and set up irritation. The prevention of subsequent attacks is often difficult unless a definite cause can be found which can be corrected via surgery.

GOP Nominees Among Best Men In America; Republican Convention Forgot That We Are Living In An Atomic Age; Republicans Defeated Isolationists

Says DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note—Drew Pearson's column today takes the form of a letter to his daughter.)

Washington, D. C.

Mrs. George L. Arnold,
Los Angeles, Calif.
My dear daughter,

Last week I attended the Republican National Convention. And I could not help but wonder as I watched the parades and the enthusiasm and the milling delegates whether they realized that what they did at Philadelphia might affect the lives of your son and millions of other youngsters almost as much as the Declaration of Independence which other delegates signed in the same city 30 blocks away a century and a half ago.

It was quite a respectable convention—no excessive drinking, no under-the-table deals that I could discover except on patronage; not even any rebel yells or that passionate frenzy that makes democratic conventions more exciting. The pillars of home-town respectability were there, uninspiring perhaps, but determined.

They nominated two good men—among the best in the country. Furthermore they nominated them in free and open competition, the healthiest thing about the Republican race and the exact opposite of the dog-in-manger attitude of certain Democratic presidents.

Unlike the Democrats, the Republicans have developed some tough, hard-working leaders, and their convention benefited from it.

Politics Forgets Atomic Energy

Of course the lady who runs our house was disappointed that her candidate, Senator Taft, wasn't nominated. And I have to agree with her that Bob Taft will go down in history for his spunk and courage and honesty.

But I think Taft forgets one great thing—the thing, incidentally, that was missed by nearly all the speakers and delegates at this convention—namely that we are living in an atomic age—an age that moves so fast we dare not take one false step for fear we get left behind.

That was what so many speakers seemed to forget at this convention.

Squeezed almost off the front pages by the political news was alarming word from Berlin that the Russians once again were trying to push us out of Berlin. Almost squeezed off the front pages also was news that President Truman had signed the peacetime draft—probably the most momentous legislation in recent history.

In other words we face the prospect of war again within our generation. We face the prospect that that son of yours, and thousands of other sons, may have to march off to another war.

This was the most important thing the Republicans overlooked.

Isolationists Bore From Within

They overlooked it partly because they couldn't afford to face it, partly because they were so busy fighting a rear-guard action against the isolationists within their own ranks—the leaders who still think The U.S.A. can remain aloof from the world. Your cousin Bertie McCormick put up the chief fight on this point. That was the reason he walked out of the convention at the end rather than vote for Dewey—also why he refused to let the Illinois Delegation, over which he remained supreme, support anyone but Taft.

To the bitter end, Cousin Bertie and his Chicago Tribune remained aloof and alone—the way they would like to have the United States.

That is one issue the Democratic Party hasn't had to worry about, and is one reason their leadership on foreign affairs has been much more farsighted.

Though the Republicans at Philadelphia finally defeated the isolationists, they dared not move forward. Instead they looked backward. Most of the speakers spent their time lambasting their favorite whipping boys, Roosevelt and the New Deal.

Dangerous New Deal

One would have thought, from hearing their orations, that no other problem existed in the world, no Russian squeeze in Berlin, no race to develop atomic energy, no danger of bomb raids over the North Pole—only the deadly danger of the New Deal.

GOP orators talked as if they actually and seriously thought the American people would stand for the repeal of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Wage-Hour Act, the AAA Farm Act, soil erosion, the Holding Corporation Act, the Social Security Act, old age pensions, rural electrification, or the Tennessee Valley Authority.

They talked as if they didn't realize that the man whom they nominated to head their ticket had adopted many of these "revolutionary" measures in his own state of New York; or as if they did not know their vice-presidential candidate had adopted many of these same ideas in California.

What they honestly didn't seem to realize is that most of the New Deal is too firmly a part of America ever to be given up; that what the American people want is forward leadership not backward regrets.

In the humble opinion of your Dad, what the American people are really looking for is security—of two kinds. The security they want from war abroad is obvious, though difficult to get. The security they want at home is easier—if the new leaders of the Republican party really lead.

That domestic security consists of freedom from inflation, freedom to earn a living wage, freedom to send their children to good schools, freedom from want in old age.

And that security will not be obtained if people in the lower brackets are not able to buy, or if the recent GOP plan to forgive-the-rich on taxes is continued, or if the real-estate lobby throttles public housing, or if our long cherished public-school system plays second fiddle to tax saving.

Those are some of the things which Republican orators, so busy whipping the New Deal, neglected at Philadelphia.

I am reasonably sure that broad-guaged leaders such as Dewey and Warren will not neglect them. But their greatest handicap may be the dead weight of the reactionaries inside the Republican party.

That was the most important fact that stood out at Philadelphia, and that is what the American people will have to watch when they go to the polls next November.

Please excuse this long political letter.

Love from,
THE OLD MAN.

These Days

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

The Last On Conventions

The convention device is too primitive to be of continued value. Certainly, the business of selecting a President of the United States ought to be a more serious business, a more sober procedure. Jiggling girls, prancing on the rostrum, hired kids shouting from the balconies, milling men and women who managed to get tickets but representing nothing do not present a picture of calm deliberation.

The various committees of arrangements in the future ought to set up rules which would prevent candidates from filling the galleries with so-called "youths" who are there to cheer and boo and act like fools and hoodlums. There was not one spontaneous ovation and demonstration when any candidate was nominated, nor were all or even most who milled about on the floor delegates. The kids were given assistant sergeant-at-arms badges to get in and plently got in without any badges or any tickets.

Fun is fun, but a convention to select a President is neither a circus nor a vaudeville show—and all this juvenile stuff ought to cease forthwith and forever. And another disgrace is the agreement by which the convention is prolonged and dragged out to make it last long enough to satisfy the merchants and hotel keepers who put up some money to bring the show to their town. All the doing at the Republican convention could have been over on Wednesday if the business had been efficiently managed. But it was permitted to drag and drag endlessly.

Joe Martin may be a wonderful Speaker of the House of Representatives but he could not keep this convention in order and moving, probably because it had to waste time to please the hotels. Also, Joe must have had a love for the demonstrations because he let them continue long after they were well over.

Unless you have seen these ovations, you cannot imagine how silly they are. Men and women walk about with their candidate's name or singing his theme song. The Voice of the Sewer at the 1944 Chicago convention may have been ridiculous, but the voice of George Bender singing the Four Leaf Clover song was equally stupid and ugly. It did not make a vote for Senator Taft.

Someone has to break through this silly tradition, for no better word describes it than silly. It costs party managers large fortunes and makes the convention itself ridiculous. It looks like tomfoolery, which it is. Or is it possible that this imbecilic galavanting is necessary to keep the delegates from being bored?

Television will in time spoil all this, but it will never end until some candidate can get himself nominated without it. Senator Homer Ferguson broke one tradition when he seconded Vandenberg without making one of those enormous five-minute speeches that uniformly say nothing but go on everlastingly. He cut through that ice, but as his man was not nominated, it made little impression on the convention. Maybe some day someone will kill off the demonstration and ovation.

Also, the committees on arrangement might pick a cool town for a late June convention, some place where there is a breeze and a little freshness of atmosphere. The heat at the Philadelphia show was unbearable and I can only pity the poor Democrats who will meet in the middle of July. Why not take such a convention to the Adirondacks or to the Yellowstone National Park? Why pick a hot spot? Is it to keep the delegates from thinking of anything but the weather?

I am not griping. I am crusading against dopey traditions that hang on because there is insufficient courage to kill them. I am protesting against stupidity. I want to shame the party managers. I want to stimulate anger in the delegates. Maybe it cannot be done. Maybe they think that is the way to pick a President of the United States.

Dewey's Election Will Mean Liberalism With Efficiency

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, June 28—If, as so many observers are predicting, Governor Dewey and Governor Warren respectively are elected president and vice president, it means the end of an epoch in American politics—the end of a standpat and reactionary conservatism as the dominating influence of the Republican party.

It means, moreover, the inauguration of a Republican "New Deal" on January 20, 1949.

It will not resemble the Roosevelt "New Deal" which, despite its veneer of liberalism and worth-while achievements in the field of social legislation, nevertheless was no better in its political morals than its predecessors—using public funds to favor certain groups and special interests and thus win elections. That whole sordid story is now being revealed piecemeal in various magazine articles by former cabinet members of the Roosevelt regime.

New Deal With Efficiency

Instead it will be a "New Deal" of liberalism with efficiency and integrity that Dewey will introduce—it might be called the "Square Deal" if it is sloganized at all. It will resemble mostly the progressivism of Theodore Roosevelt days which jolted the standpat conservatism of the Republican Party just 40 years ago.

Businessmen as a whole have undergone a transformation since then and most of them today will welcome a fair and intelligent conservatism suited to the times—though, to be sure, a powerful group of businessmen of the ultraconservative school will certainly be found criticizing the Dewey administration bitterly one year after it takes office.

For the Republican Party has by no means finished its evolution. The struggle for mastery inside the party will go on as always. It will manifest itself on labor relations, taxation and foreign policy issues involving funds for European aid. The weakness of the ultra conservatives has been their slavish devotion to political ideas that have become obsolete at a time when the phrase "public interest" must be applied to a nation of big population affected directly in its welfare and standards of living by big business and big unionism, both of which sometimes overreach themselves in the exercise of economic power.

Minimum of Entanglements

Dewey owes this nomination in part to the confusion and disagreements among the conservatives at the convention. He was not averse to wooing some of them in the larger states, thus splitting their ranks still more. But, broadly speaking, Dewey came out of the contest with a minimum of entanglements.

While it looked like an easy victory, actually the New York governor was in danger of defeat by a coalition. Fortunately for him the conservative group which could only have blocked him by rallying around Vandenberg—because he was plainly the only man to whom the Dewey forces would have capitulated in a deadlock—didn't like Vandenberg. The Michigan senator really lost the nomination in the last two weeks after he antagonized House Republicans and conservatives. He courageously fought them, thus compelling the House to restore the "meat-axe" cuts it had made in the European Recovery Program. The situation was further complicated by the inability of Taft or Stassen to see that neither could win. The rise of a Vandenberg bandwagon through the early acquisition of Taft and Stassen votes would have scared away the very votes for Dewey that brought him his extra support on the second ballot.

Dewey Efficient, Well Trained

Governor Dewey is efficient and sufficiently trained in politics to avoid the excessive zeal that converts leadership into dictatorship—though his critics fear that is his tendency. Men like Senator Taft and Representatives Halleck and Taber are independent-minded persons who do not like to take orders, so they will have to be handled with care by Dewey. A battle is inevitable on certain issues, because conservatives never have accepted progressive doctrine without a battle.

Governor Dewey is free to become a Theodore Roosevelt or a Franklin Roosevelt in his relations with his party in Congress. He doesn't resemble either man in personality or behavior, but he will adopt something of the tactics that each displayed in exercising leadership by influencing public opinion and thus dominating Congress.

MATTER OF FACT

By JOSEPH And STEWART ALSOP

Smell Of Munich Or Risk Of War?

WASHINGTON

EXCITEMENT over the strange quadrennial rites of the political conventions has tended to obscure one grim fact. That is that within ten to twenty days the United States (and England and France) may have to take the most crucial decision since the war. The Soviet blockade on food and supplies for Berlin may soon be lifted. But if it is not, the Berlin population will begin to starve in less than three weeks. And the Western powers will then have to decide whether to leave Berlin or to find some way to force the Soviets to reopen the supply lines.

Moreover, even if, as has been reported, the Russians soon lift or modify their blockade of the western sectors of Berlin, the cat-and-mouse game which the Russians have started will not be played out, for the Soviets are clearly determined to force the Western powers out of the German capital. And short of shooting, blockade is the only Soviet weapon to achieve that end.

It is interesting that even now, although lights are burning late in the State Department and in the British and French Foreign Offices, no final decision on the Western reaction to a continued blockade has been taken. It has not been taken simply because it is hoped almost desperately that it will never have to be taken.

This hope springs from the fact that the Soviet weapon—blockade and the starving of the German population in Berlin—has one grave and evident weakness. The Russians are now using every means at their disposal, including the most overt appeals to German nationalism, to win the German people to their side in the struggle to gain control of all Germany. And starving people are not usually warmly inclined to those responsible for their starvation.

Therefore, it is the short-range intention of the Western powers to exploit this Soviet weakness to the utmost, if the Soviets continue their blockade. Trucks and railway cars will be filled with food and supplies for the hungry Germans of Berlin, and drawn up at the borders of the Soviet and Western zones, a few hours out of Berlin. Every medium of information, including the radio and the Western-licensed Berlin press, will be used to make it known to the Berliners that these supplies are available if the Russians will let the trucks and trains through.

Thus, if the Berliners are to starve, they will at least know who is responsible for their starvation. It is hoped and believed that for political reasons the Soviets cannot afford to accept this responsibility. Yet it is certainly possible that the strategists in the Kremlin, either now or later, may decide that the prize of a Western evacuation of Berlin is worth the price of the hatred of some millions of impotent Germans. What then?

That question was clearly paramount some weeks ago when one of these correspondents predicted from Berlin the blockade which the Soviets have now instituted. The final answer to the question does not depend on General Lucius Clay, General Sir Brian Robertson or the other Western officials on the spot. Since it is a matter involving peace or war, it depends rather on decisions made in Washington, London and Paris, decisions that have not yet been taken. Yet in Berlin the question has been a subject of anxious discussion at all levels of the Western command, and the alternative Western responses to a continued Soviet blockade have for weeks been grimly obvious.

The Western powers can leave Berlin, having first announced that they are leaving only to save the German population from the starvation with which Russian actions have threatened them. The Soviet Union could then be forced out of the United Nations for flagrant breach of treaties, and the whole Soviet sphere isolated from the rest of the world while a constant vigilant guard is posted around it. Certain subsidiary measures could be taken; for example, there has been discussion of the possibility of flying out to the safety of the Western zones the several thousand Berlin Germans who have most courageously fought the Communists.

Yet there is no use blinking the fact that a Western evacuation of Berlin, even under these circumstances, would have a strong smell of Munich. The alternative is somehow to force the Soviets to re-open the supply lines into Berlin. No one, either in Berlin or Washington, is certain just how this could be done. How force the Russians, for example, to repair a railway bridge which they have allowed to break down? As one official put it: "You can't repair a railway with tommy-gunners and tanks." And whatever technique is used to force the re-opening of the supply lines, the risk of war is always implicit, however small the risk may be.

Election year or no election year, and whether or not the Soviets now temporarily ease the blockade, the Western response to Soviet pressure in Berlin is clearly a subject which requires plenty of hard, sober thought.

It Says Here

By BOB HOPE

It seems the new small cars are becoming the rage now. Their price is under a thousand dollars and you get from 25 to 50 miles on a gallon with them.

I won't say the cars are small, but one guy I know opened up a used car checkerboard.

They come in all colors, the same as jelly beans and they really are great for the woman shopper. She doesn't have to worry about parking. She just gets out and puts it on her head like a hat.

The advantages are numerous. You don't need brakes. You stick your head out the window and sneeze into the wind.

And you don't have to worry about traffic regulations . . . you drive down the middle of the white line in complete safety.

But, best of all, they're so economical. You can put your hand out to make a turn and pick up cigar butts at the same time.

But one guy made the mistake of parking near a baby carriage. When he got back he discovered the kid was using the spare tire for a teething ring.

They're making convertibles, too. But right now the top doesn't come down. Instead, they give you a can opener with every car.

They are becoming so popular the car companies are hiring midget finance men.

There is one disadvantage, though—open manholes.

CelaneseCompany Is Upheld On Two Of Three Issues

Union Declared Winner Of Third

The Celanese Corporation of America has been declared winner in two of three cases of grievances at the plant, and Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, winner of the third.

The decisions were reported by Sidney A. Wolff, New York, arbitrator, following hearings.

Wolff upheld the grievance of Arthur Stratton who had been suspended for two days for alleged "horse play" October 30, 1947. Stratton is ordered reimbursed for the two days' pay deducted by the company.

The grievance of Melvin Harris, who received a five-day suspension for sleeping in the Textile Engineering Department, has been disallowed. The company has also been upheld concerning the operation of a labeling machine by staff workers.

Gets Benefit of Doubt

"While horse play was being carried on in violation of company rules, I am satisfied that this employe (Stratton) was not the real culprit, although he probably had a hand in the 'fun'," Wolff wrote.

The opinion points out that Stratton, an employe of eight years' service, had not been involved in previous disciplinary action. Stratton's co-worker who accepted disciplinary action without objection testified in behalf of Stratton and the latter is given the "benefit of the doubt."

Wolff adds:

"Experience has shown that a large number of industrial accidents find their source in horse play, and I am certain there is no need for me to discuss in detail that such conduct has no place in this company. Not only is it not desired by the company, and the union, but the employes themselves do not care for it. A factory is not a playground and what may seem plain ordinary fun to the immature only too often develops into a tragic or serious accident. It is hoped that with this determination, those who are responsible for the horse play in this particular department will take heed and cease their activities which are frowned upon by all who are truly interested in the health of the employes."

Found Asleep On Job

Concerning the Harris case, Wolff wrote: "I am satisfied that Mr. Harris was found asleep on the job by his supervisor."

"If, as this employe now contends, he was suffering from a headache and had merely closed his eyes for a moment, it is indeed peculiar that immediately after the event, he made no attempt to explain this to his supervisor. It is equally surprising that when confronted with the charge that he was asleep, he made the statement that he did not know whether he was sleeping or not. With all this as a background, the position in which he admittedly was found, and the location of the place selected by him for a violation of company rules, coupled with his demeanor on the witness stand before me, impel the conclusion that no 'injustice has been dealt' Mr. Harris within the meaning of paragraph six of the collective bargaining agreement," Wolff wrote.

In the third case the union objected to the use of staff members in the operation of a labeling machine. The opinion points out that originally hourly-paid workers known as case markers prepared and affixed labels by hand with a stencil pencil and that it was considered a "preferred job" with an hourly rate two cents higher.

In January of this year the new system was started and labels were prepared by a "typist" on the machine. The union does not object to the use of the machine.

Only One Question

The hourly workers formerly engaged in the operation were given other duties at a lower rate in the Twisting Examination Department. The "typists" are commercial high school graduates and were taken from the stenographic pool, Wolff states.

Hourly workers continue all other operations except the actual preparation of the label. The arbitrator notes that the contract at the plant excepts typists from the agreement and says the only question to be determined is whether the label machine operators fall in the typist category.

"From the evidence submitted, it is clear that this labeling machine has a keyboard requiring an operation similar to that involved in the use of a typewriter and its operator falls within the category of 'typist'," Wolff ruled in disallowing the grievance.

Wolff writes that a similar labeling machine is used in the Fabric Warehouse and is operated by staff workers. "I am greatly impressed by this and believe that this ac-

"If, as this employe now contends, he was suffering from a headache and had merely closed his eyes for a moment, it is indeed peculiar that immediately after the event, he made no attempt to explain this to his supervisor. It is equally surprising that when confronted with the charge that he was asleep, he made the statement that he did not know whether he was sleeping or not. With all this as a background, the position in which he admittedly was found, and the location of the place selected by him for a violation of company rules, coupled with his demeanor on the witness stand before me, impel the conclusion that no 'injustice has been dealt' Mr. Harris within the meaning of paragraph six of the collective bargaining agreement," Wolff wrote.

The opinion points out that originally hourly-paid workers known as case markers prepared and affixed labels by hand with a stencil pencil and that it was considered a "preferred job" with an hourly rate two cents higher.

In January of this year the new system was started and labels were prepared by a "typist" on the machine. The union does not object to the use of the machine.

Only One Question

The hourly workers formerly engaged in the operation were given other duties at a lower rate in the Twisting Examination Department. The "typists" are commercial high school graduates and were taken from the stenographic pool, Wolff states.

Hourly workers continue all other operations except the actual preparation of the label. The arbitrator notes that the contract at the plant excepts typists from the agreement and says the only question to be determined is whether the label machine operators fall in the typist category.

"From the evidence submitted, it is clear that this labeling machine has a keyboard requiring an operation similar to that involved in the use of a typewriter and its operator falls within the category of 'typist'," Wolff ruled in disallowing the grievance.

Wolff writes that a similar labeling machine is used in the Fabric Warehouse and is operated by staff workers. "I am greatly impressed by this and believe that this ac-

My Pet Peeve

(Maybe It's Yours, Too!)
Says YES MAN

Chet Coughenour

I guess every one of us has a secret gripe. Something or somebody we can very well do without. My pet peeve is a rude clerk or sales person who thinks you've got to do business with his company and treats you like a poor relative.

Maybe I'm over-sensitive . . . maybe people really don't object to this treatment. But my staff and I have always believed that the customer is doing us a pretty big favor when he enters our office—and, at Personal Finance Co., we're not shy about letting him know how grateful we are that he's chosen us.

And my staff is especially good at showing appreciation because from the day they join PERSONAL, they are trained to treat the customer as they themselves, would like to be treated.

Cumberland folks who want a loan must like the courtesy and friendliness they find at PERSONAL FINANCE CO., because so many of them have recommended us to their friends. Which proves to me, that we've been successful in doing what we set out to do; provide Cumberland folks with a friendly loan service in which honesty and the ability to make monthly payments are the chief requirements to getting a loan.

We never recommend needless borrowing. BUT if you can use $25 to $750 for a worth-while purpose—consolidating bills, repairing your home, paying medical bills—and you want to get the cash in the way that suits you best—on salary, furniture, or car I'd appreciate the chance to say "yes" to YOU . . . just as I do to 4 out of every 5 who apply for a loan here.

Just phone 721 . . . or, if you're in the neighborhood, come in and ask for me—Chet Coughenour. PERSONAL FINANCE CO., is located on the 2nd floor of the Liberty Trust Building. Open Monday thru Friday, 9 until 5. Closed Saturdays. Evenings by appointment.

WHY "Stepping Down" IS SO IMPORTANT TO YOU

Hudson amazes motor-car world by using vital "step-down" zone—not available in any other car—to bring you riding qualities and safety beyond anything known before!

Word's going 'round—and fast, too—that Hudson gives you a "sweet," smooth, safe ride that is a new high in motor-car performance!

Perhaps you've heard pleased and proud Hudson owners talking about this exciting new experience, but here's something you may have missed hearing:

The key to this amazing new ride lies in that area just under the floor of the average car, which in the New Hudson becomes the "step-down" zone—as illustrated in the sketches at the right.

This "step-down" zone is all-important, because experience has shown that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the better it will handle, the more stability it will have, the safer it will be, and thus the more enjoyable and comfortable will be your ride.

Hudson, and Hudson alone, has accomplished a near miracle of low-built streamlining and smooth, safe, comfortable riding with a new type of base frame which surrounds the passenger compartment, and thus permits the floor to be lowered down within it. Recessing the floor creates the "step-down" zone and a center of gravity that is the lowest in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample!

That's why Hudson has a hug-the-road way of going, even in cross-winds, and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see how this car takes even the sharpest curves, it will spoil you for any other type of automobile! You sense this delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin your ride; and this stability, plus the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, gives you a grand feeling of safe well-being.

Sitting in this car is as downright satisfying as stretching out in your favorite easy chair. You ride on seats that are lowered and cradled ahead of the rear wheels and, even with its low silhouette, this breathtakingly beautiful motor car gives you more head room than any other mass-produced car built today!

Hudson's use of the vital "step-down" zone in its exclusive, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* is a development that required years of engineering work, the perfection of new production techniques, and millions of dollars in highly specialized new plant investment. Perhaps this explains why Hudson alone offers this new design principle today.

The nearest Hudson dealer has a booklet—yours for the asking—which explains how "stepping down" brings you advantages beyond anything known before! Hudson Motor Car Co., Detroit 14.

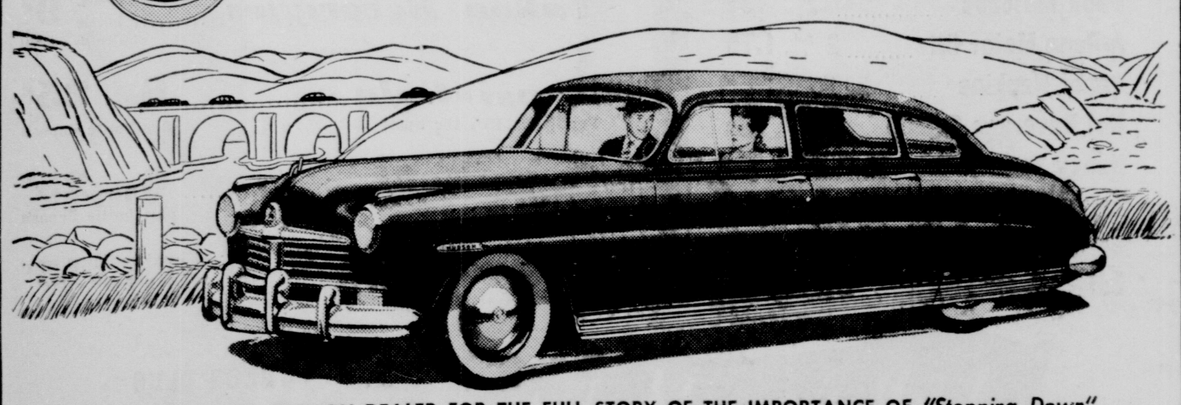

*Trade-mark and patents pending.

OTHER CARS—Here you can see that any car with floor on top of the frame, as shown above, fails to utilize that all-important space between frame members (heretofore wasted by placing floor on top of the frame). This results in a high center of gravity, and either a high roof line or insufficient head room.

NEW HUDSON—Here the important space between frame members, shown above, becomes the "step-down" zone—a highly useful addition to interior passenger roominess that creates a new, lower center of gravity, which in turn permits greater safety, improved roadability and ride, a low, streamlined silhouette.

6 CUBIC FOOT COLDSPOT FREEZER

It's a well-known fact that FROZEN FOODS COOK FASTER—this is true of all foods, such as vegetables, meats, fish and poultry. Freezing tenderizes them, yet they retain their nutritive values and original freshness. Many "ready-cooked" dishes are available at your grocer's such as chicken a la king, spaghetti, beef stew, chili con carne, chop suey, Boston baked beans and brown bread, or you may prepare and freeze these and many other "ready-cooked" taste treats for your family to enjoy any month of the year.

15-Year-Old Girl Finds It Difficult To Make Friends In New Community

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 15 and recently moved into a new community. I attend a nice school but sometimes I am very unhappy. Just like all schools, they have dances and gatherings very often but I am one of the unfortunate ones who have not been asked to any of them.

I am going with a group of girls who attend all these parties and have grand times. This hurts me more than anything else because I have looked forward to high school so much and now it has brought me so much unhappiness. Could you give me some advice on how to mingle with boys and girls who are my own age?

"UNPOPULAR"

Dear "Unpopular":

I have an idea that perhaps your chief trouble is shyness. It is hard on any girl to come into a new place where all the young people have their own groups and are apt to be thoughtless about including a new person, and perhaps even unwilling to do so.

Now that school is over for the summer, there isn't much you can do at the moment about joining in activities there. But you might be planning what clubs and sports you might go in for when school opens again in the fall that would bring you in contact with more of the girls and boys.

In the meantime, why not take the initiative and invite some of the boys and girls to a party at your house or a picnic or some other event that would be easy to plan. Take your mother into your confidence and see if she doesn't have some suggestions. Perhaps you have been just too bashful about approaching people, and they may have thought you didn't care to join them. Anyhow, you have nothing to lose, and will probably make a good deal, by showing in a concrete way that you do want to be friends.

Rizer Recommends Sewer Project

City Engineer Ralph R. Rizer said yesterday he has recommended to the City Council that a start be made as soon as possible on installation of an interceptor sewer for the Brookline Addition in the Mapleside section.

Installation of an interceptor sewer, Rizer explained, will provide the city with a means of disposing of sewage in that area. He reported the plans have been drawn, and added "we're all ready to go."

Council last week received a request from F. W. Armbruster, Jr., 1303 Michigan Avenue, a resident of the section, for installation in the Brookline Addition of a sewer system to handle the refuse there.

Water Use Increases

Cumberland residents used 88,390,000 gallons of water during the week ended Sunday, C. L. Brotemarkle reported yesterday to the Mayor and Council. The daily average used during the week, he said, was 12,627,000 gallons.

During the same period last year, total usage amounted to 81,360,000 gallons, with the daily average at 11,694,000.

Council Approves Four Appointments

Four appointments were approved yesterday by Mayor and City Council.. They were:

Miss Mary Eileen Kelly, 213 Saratoga Street, temporary clerk, police department, $183.50, effective July 1, replacing Richard P. McCardell, who is ill.

James Coker, 432 Pine Avenue, lifeguard, Pine Avenue playground, $28.

Earle L. Bracey, 218 Carroll Avenue, member, Recreation Planning Commission.

cepted practice constitutes a practical application and interpretation of the agreement and one which may not be ignored," Wolff states.

"By permitting this situation in the Fabric Warehouse, the union may not now ask that an identical operation in the Twisting Examination Department be ruled violative of the agreement," Wolff declares. Later on he notes:

"A stable and healthy labor relationship requires uniformity in the interpretation and application of the provisions of a collective bargaining agreement."

Wolff ruled that an operation in the Coning Department where production workers are used is not the same as "the machines are entirely dissimilar" and have no keyboard.

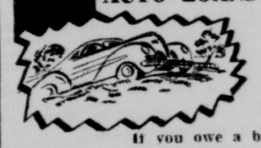

In conclusion the arbitrator says he wants to make it clear that he does not "subscribe to the theory suggested that 'changing a job from hand-operated to machine-operated automatically changes it from a production job to a staff job'; nor will 'merely moving a job from a production area into a staff office automatically make that a staff job'. No such automatic result can possibly follow. Whether any job is a 'production job' or a 'staff job' will depend on the actual nature of the job and the provisions of the collective bargaining agreement."

IS YOUR CAR'S PERFORMANCE
FLAT?
A VALVE GRIND MAY BE THE ANSWER IF YOUR CAR

USES TOO MUCH GAS — LACKS POWER — HAS "ENGINE MISS"

You may only need a motor tune-up, but a compression test will show for sure what causes poor performance. It will take just a few minutes and you will have a scientific answer instead of a guess. Our valve grinding service includes: reface valves—reseat block—ream out guides—clean carbon—adjust tappets—clean and space spark plugs and distributor points—set timing—adjust engine idle.

Robinson Whips Docusen, Retains Title

Midland Trims Cumberland

THE LATEST "ACE"-- John R. "Jack" Manley, right, is the latest member of the Cumberland Country Club to register a hole-in-one. "Jack" scored his ace in the 15th hole Sunday during the match between Martinsburg and Cumberland. He used a No. 5 iron to make the shot for the third hole-in-one recorded at the local course this year. "Jack" proudly shows his card to his father, John A. Manley, Midland Post took over undisputed possession of first place in the eastern division of the Mountain District American Legion Junior Baseball League by defeating Fort Cumberland Post yesterday at Stitcher Field by the score of 14 to 10.

It marked the second victory for Midland over the locals this season and dropped Manager Eddie Diehl's team into a second place tie with Farrady Post, Frostburg. On June 17, Midland defeated Cumberland 4-3 in 12 innings.

23 Passes Issued

Wild pitching marred yesterday's game in which a total of 23 bases on balls were issued—12 by Cumberland pitchers and 11 by Midland slabmen.

The big blow of the battle was made by "Rossy" Shearer, Midland's starting pitcher who smeared one for four sacks with the bases loaded during the visitors' third inning 7-run rally. Ronnie Cage connected for three two-baggers to head the Cumberland offensive.

Eddie Hawkins, Midland left fielder, turned in two nice catches and George Stevenson, local first sacker, made an unassisted double play.

Lancaster Scores Shutout

At State Teachers' College Field, Frostburg, "Doc" Lancaster yielded one hit—a single by Yommer in the third—and struck out eight batsmen as Farrady Post handed Grantsville Post its fifth consecutive defeat by the score of 10-0.

Hopkins accounted for two of Frostburg's eight bingles and Brady's double was the lone extra base wallop.

The decision was made at joint meeting held June 19 but it was not announced until today.

Lamont is the owner of the horse, El Mono, winner of the Widener Handicap and the McLennan Handicap at Hialeah Park last winter.

CUMBERLAND ELKS BEAT FREDERICK

The softball team of Cumberland Lodge No. 63, B.P.O. Elks defeated Frederick Lodge No. 694 on Sunday at Frederick by the score of 5-4.

The second game of the scheduled double header was cancelled on account of rain.

J. Wilkinson and Glenn Zembower shared four of the winners' nine hits while Spangler supplied the fielding gem with a nice catch of Friedman's drive to shortfield in the seventh, doubling Miller at second to stop the home team in the finel inning.

Frederick executed a triple play and double play while Miller and Hahn garnered two hits each for the losers. The score:

Challenger Is Saved By Bell In Two Rounds

Decision Unanimous, 8,883 Pay $45,640

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Editor

CHICAGO, June 28 (INS) — Welterweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson successfully defended his title tonight by winning a 15-round decision over Bernard Docusen.

A 7 to 2 favorite at the starting bell, Sugar Ray, pound for pound the most economical punching machine in the fight game, figured to end it early, and simply, by knocking out the handsome 21-year-old from the bayous of Louisiana.

For nine rounds, instead, an angered, nettled Robinson was treated to as sassy a lesson on how to box as has been seen since the heyday of Sammy Mandell. When Sugar Ray finally got around to throwing his knockout punch, Docusen went down—but he bounced, after a count of nine, and, helped by a couple of timely bells, finished out.

Floors Docusen In 11th

About 8,000 people in Chicago's Comiskey Park were moved to cheers of admiration for Docusen, who had everything but a punch and the welterweight title, and still hasn't got either. Although his exceptional jabbing skill, counterpunching, and ability to take the best Robinson tossed his way put him ahead on points through the ninth round, Docusen lost the tenth, and a renascent Robinson really put it to him in the eleventh.

A tremendous Robinson right to the jowl sent the lithe challenger in airborne fashion across the ring, and the left-right to the temple crumpled him to the canvas, where he lay on his side with utter disregard for the noise of the multitude.

He did recognize the count when he heard it, however, and, on one knee at seven, managed to get up and into the arms of Referee Walter Brightmore before the utterance of "ten."

Bernie Hangs On

From then on, it was a mere question of hanging on for Docusen, and this he contrived to do, although the bell saved him from assured doom in both the eleventh and fourteenth rounds.

In between, in the thirteenth, the challenger, recognized as the leading contender for Robinson's wreath, opened an unattractive cut to the side of the champion's right eye, but, his own condition being what it was, proved unable to press the advantage.

The fight, already postponed three times for reasons known to most if believed by few, almost didn't go on tonight, either. It rained during the day, and angry storm clouds hung in abeyance throughout the evening program.

Decision Is Unanimous

Robinson, who'd posted $10,000 appearance money and $5,000 makeweight bond, weighed in at 146½ pounds at noon today. His foe, a pound lighter, was given 65 of a possible 150 points by referee Brightmore, 67 by Judge Arthur Oberg and 69 by Judge James Mcmanus. So Robinson was far ahead on points on all three cards—85 on the ref's, 83 on that of one judge and 81 on that of the other.

A crowd of 8,883 chunked $45,640 through the cashiers' windows and Promoter Irving Kovin wound up with $35,107 out of which he paid Robinson 25 per cent and Docusen 20 per cent.

This meant Robinson, working in his first straight percentage fight of his career, grabbed $8,776 for his night's work. The Duke's end was $7,021.

The champion usually fights on a straight guarantee basis.

Mower's	0	2	.000

Exploding for six runs in the tenth inning, Charley Reed's Electricians captured an overtime thriller from Lacy's Delicatets, first half champions of the City Softball League, yesterday at Taylor Field by the score of 12-6.

Lacy's tied it up at 6-6 in the 6th inning of the scheduled 7-inning game and three extra frames were played before a decision was reached. The big blow in the 10th was provided by Tommy Smith who cleaned the bases with a timely double.

Ted Durbin clouted two homers for Lacy's, one coming with two aboard, while Vern Penner garnered three singles. George Hixenbaugh topped the hitters of Manager John Mangus' club with three hits while Herman Athey and Ronnie Armbruster each hit safely twice.

Amvets Score 18-2 Win

The Amvets remained tied with Reed's for first place by trouncing Ballard's Cleaners at Campobello by the score of 18-2. Led by Doyle George and Tommy Geatz who rapped out three hits apiece the Amvets amassed 18 safeties while Allan Sheetz was tossing a three-hitter. Fuller hit for the circuit for Ballard's. One of Geatz's blows was a triple.

"Chug" Aman had a perfect day at bat with four hits and Glen Kauffman connected for a double and two singles as the North End Social and Athletic Club subdued Mower's Bakery at East Side Field, 11-5. Mulvey, Welsh and Deremer of North End and Hoban of the Bakers had two bingles each. Reynolds walloped a triple for the losers.

Astor Cab Bags Victory

Astor Cab moved in the .500 circle by downing Joe's Crusaders 9-2 on the Rolling Mill Field behind the three-hit pitching of Bill Underdonk, who also was the batting star with four hits in four trips to the plate—two doubles and two singles. Johnny Cox belted a three-run homer and in addition had two singles. Cleggett, Smith and Willis made the Crusaders' hits. A diving catch by M. Bank's on Pat Algieri's liner to left in the 5th was the fielding gem. The scores:

INS Staff Correspondent

MUIRFIELD, Scotland, June 28 (INS) — America's threat in the British Open Golf Championship began to take definite shape today, although England provided the leader on the first of two qualifying rounds.

All three of the topmost leaders played over Gullane as the field of 275 was split between the neighboring course and Muirfield.

The contestants will switch courses tomorrow for another 18 holes of qualifying and the hundred survivors will start the championship proper at Muirfield Wednesday.

Stranahan and Little shot identical nines on different courses. Stranahan carded 35-35 at Gullane with a par of 69 and Little had the same figures at Muirfield with a par of 68.

Bulla Among Leaders

Johnny Bulla, of Phoenix, Ariz., and Arthur Clark, of Huntington, W. Va., tied at 71 with Fred Daly, Irish pro who is the defending champion.

Gardnar Mulloy, Bob Falkenburg Win In England

Bromwich, Asboth Are Other Semi-Finalists

LONDON, June 28—(AP)—The Miami veteran, Gardnar Mulloy, and young Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., carried American hopes into the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships with sparkling victories today as two of their teammates, Tom Brown and Budge Patty, bit the dust on the center court.

Mulloy, playing beautiful, heady tennis, knocked out the last British player, Tony Mottram, by 6-2, 1-6, 7-5, 6-1, while Falkenburg attended to the tall Swede Lennard Bergelin, 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, in a match frequently interrupted by a chill rain.

Asboth Beats Brown

Brown, the San Franciscan who was a finalist against the great Jack Kramer last year, fell to the amazingly steady back court game of Josef Asboth, a lean Hungarian, by scores of 4-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1. Patty of Los Angeles, succumbed to the Australian star, John Bromwich in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5, 6-1.

Wednesday's semi-finals will pit Falkenburg against Mulloy and Bromwich against Asboth, so there is no possibility of an all-American final. Off their form today, Mulloy and Bromwich should fight it out for the title on Friday.

The women's department offered no surprises as five seeded American stars joined three other not-very-hopefuls in the quarter finals. In all likelihood the semi-finals will be packed tight with Americans.

American Women Win

Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., the defending champion, romped past Mrs. E. W. Dawson-Scott of Britain, 6-2, 6-2. Doris Hart of Miami ousted Joan Curry of Britain, 6-2, 6-3. Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., smacked Edith Middleton of Britain, 6-0, 6-1, and Shirley Fry of Akron, O., beat Mrs. Suzy Kormoczy of Hungary, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Mrs. Dupont will meet Mrs. Jean Nicoll Bostock of Britain in the quarter-finals. Miss Hart draws Nelly Landry of France. Mrs. Todd Faces Jean Quertier, British youngster, and Miss Fry will run into Miss Brough's searing drives.

Miss Hart and Mrs. Todd, defending champs, reached the doubles quarter-finals with an easy victory over Joan Curry and Mrs. E. W. Dawson-Scott, 6-3, 6-4. Miss Fry and Mrs. Mary Arnold Prentiss also got into the last eight by beating Joy Gannon and Jean Quertier, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

A. S. Tibles, unheralded British professional, shot a 67 to set the pace by a stroke over Jimmy Thomson, Scottish - born American pro, and Roberto Devicenzo, a pro from Brazil, who fired 68's.

All three of the topmost leaders played over Gullane as the field of 275 was split between the neighboring course and Muirfield.

Gardnar Mulloy, Bob Falkenburg Win In England

Bromwich, Asboth Are Other Semi-Finalists

LONDON, June 28—(AP)—The Miami veteran, Gardnar Mulloy, and young Bob Falkenburg of Hollywood, Calif., carried American hopes into the semi-finals of the Wimbledon tennis championships with sparkling victories today as two of their teammates, Tom Brown and Budge Patty, bit the dust on the center court.

Mulloy, playing beautiful, heady tennis, knocked out the last British player, Tony Mottram, by 6-2, 1-6, 7-5, 6-1, while Falkenburg attended to the tall Swede Lennard Bergelin, 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, in a match frequently interrupted by a chill rain.

Asboth Beats Brown

Brown, the San Franciscan who was a finalist against the great Jack Kramer last year, fell to the amazingly steady back court game of Josef Asboth, a lean Hungarian, by scores of 4-6, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1. Patty of Los Angeles, succumbed to the Australian star, John Bromwich in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5, 6-1.

Wednesday's semi-finals will pit Falkenburg against Mulloy and Bromwich against Asboth, so there is no possibility of an all-American final. Off their form today, Mulloy and Bromwich should fight it out for the title on Friday.

The women's department offered no surprises as five seeded American stars joined three other not-very-hopefuls in the quarter finals. In all likelihood the semi-finals will be packed tight with Americans.

American Women Win

Mrs. Margaret Osborne Dupont of Wilmington, Del., the defending champion, romped past Mrs. E. W. Dawson-Scott of Britain, 6-2, 6-2. Doris Hart of Miami ousted Joan Curry of Britain, 6-2, 6-3. Mrs. Patricia Canning Todd of La Jolla, Calif., put out Mrs. Mary Halford of Britain, 6-3, 6-3. Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., smacked Edith Middleton of Britain, 6-0, 6-1, and Shirley Fry of Akron, O., beat Mrs. Suzy Kormoczy of Hungary, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Mrs. Dupont will meet Mrs. Jean Nicoll Bostock of Britain in the quarter-finals. Miss Hart draws Nelly Landry of France. Mrs. Todd Faces Jean Quertier, British youngster, and Miss Fry will run into Miss Brough's searing drives.

Miss Hart and Mrs. Todd, defending champs, reached the doubles quarter-finals with an easy victory over Joan Curry and Mrs. E. W. Dawson-Scott, 6-3, 6-4. Miss Fry and Mrs. Mary Arnold Prentiss also got into the last eight by beating Joy Gannon and Jean Quertier, 3-6, 6-1, 6-4.

Challenger Is Saved By Bell In Two Rounds

Decision Unanimous, 8,883 Pay $45,640

By CHARLES EINSTEIN
International News Service Sports Editor

CHICAGO, June 28 (INS) — Welterweight Champion Sugar Ray Robinson successfully defended his title tonight by winning a 15-round decision over Bernard Docusen.

A 7 to 2 favorite at the starting bell, Sugar Ray, pound for pound the most economical punching machine in the fight game, figured to end it early, and simply, by knocking out the handsome 21-year-old from the bayous of Louisiana.

For nine rounds, instead, an angered, nettled Robinson was treated to as sassy a lesson on how to box as has been seen since the heyday of Sammy Mandell. When Sugar Ray finally got around to throwing his knockout punch, Docusen went down—but he bounced, after a count of nine, and, helped by a couple of timely bells, finished out.

Floors Docusen In 11th

About 8,000 people in Chicago's Comiskey Park were moved to cheers of admiration for Docusen, who had everything but a punch and the welterweight title, and still hasn't got either. Although his exceptional jabbing skill, counterpunching, and ability to take the best Robinson tossed his way put him ahead on points through the ninth round, Docusen lost the tenth, and a renascent Robinson really put it to him in the eleventh.

A tremendous Robinson right to the jowl sent the lithe challenger in airborne fashion across the ring, and the left-right to the temple crumpled him to the canvas, where he lay on his side with utter disregard for the noise of the multitude.

He did recognize the count when he heard it, however, and, on one knee at seven, managed to get up and into the arms of Referee Walter Brightmore before the utterance of "ten."

Bernie Hangs On

From then on, it was a mere question of hanging on for Docusen, and this he contrived to do, although the bell saved him from assured doom in both the eleventh and fourteenth rounds.

In between, in the thirteenth, the challenger, recognized as the leading contender for Robinson's wreath, opened an unattractive cut to the side of the champion's right eye, but, his own condition being what it was, proved unable to press the advantage.

The fight, already postponed three times for reasons known to most if believed by few, almost didn't go on tonight, either. It rained during the day, and angry storm clouds hung in abeyance throughout the evening program.

Decision Is Unanimous

Robinson, who'd posted $10,000 appearance money and $5,000 makeweight bond, weighed in at 146½ pounds at noon today. His foe, a pound lighter, was given 65 of a possible 150 points by referee Brightmore, 67 by Judge Arthur Oberg and 69 by Judge James Mcmanus. So Robinson was far ahead on points on all three cards—85 on the ref's, 83 on that of one judge and 81 on that of the other.

A crowd of 8,883 chunked $45,640 through the cashiers' windows and Promoter Irving Kovin wound up with $35,107 out of which he paid Robinson 25 per cent and Docusen 20 per cent.

This meant Robinson, working in his first straight percentage fight of his career, grabbed $8,776 for his night's work. The Duke's end was $7,021.

The champion usually fights on a straight guarantee basis.

Cincinnati Firm Is Sole Bidder On Bond Issues

Frostburg Council Accepts Offers

FROSTBURG—Bids of a Cincinnati, O., firm on two bond issues of the City of Frostburg were approved unanimously last night by Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore and the City Council at a special meeting.

The firm of Walter, Woody and Heimerdinger was the only one to submit bids.

One bond issue of $20,000, known as the "water improvement and refunding bond issue of 1947," is designed to liquidate the $55,000 water improvement bond issue of 1923, which matures August 1. The $55,000 bonded indebtedness has been carried by the city at the interest rate of 4½ per cent for the past 25 years.

The Cincinnati firm offered to purchase the $20,000 bond issue at the rate of 3 per cent interest, payable semi-annually. The bonds will be dated July 1, 1948, and will mature as follows:

Six thousand dollars on July 1, 1952; $7,000 on July 1, 1953; and the remaining $7,000 on July 1, 1954.

The second bond issue is the $25,000 street improvement bonds of 1947, designed to liquidate a debt for current paving projects and general repairs, and to provide funds for a number of future improvements.

On that bond issue, the firm bid 3¼ per cent interest, payable semi-annually. The bonds, dated July 1, 1948, will mature as follows:

Five thousand dollars on July 1, 1960; $5,000 each on July 1 of 1961 and 1962; and $10,000 on July 1, 1963.

out on bail in Louisville, Ky., where he faces a similar charge.

At the time of his arrest here, Walker was married to the former Mrs. Mary Ashe, San Antonio, Tex. She said she first met the man at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C.

She did not learn of Walker's criminal background, authorities quoted her as saying, until the ex-convict was arrested here on the complaint of Mrs. Graham.

Assistant United States Attorney Amedeo L. Lauritano, who obtained the federal indictment, said Walker has also married a Mrs. Clara Duerr, St. Louis, Mo., in 1945. He is alleged to have obtained $21,000 from her.

Sent Wife To Alaska

Lauritano said Walker sent Mrs. Duerr to Fairbanks, Alaska, to check on a deal he supposedly was making for horses and that she still is there working as a bookkeeper in a warehouse without sufficient funds to return to this country.

Walker has been arrested 11 times in various parts of the country Lauritano said and that in 1930 he had been sentenced to serve one to 14 years in jail for forgery and in 1936 he was again sentenced for conspiracy.

At the New York arraignment Walker gave 542 North Pine Avenue, Chicago, as his address. He faces a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and a $20,000 fine if convicted.

Japanese Beetle

That first 24 hours is the tactical time for the farmer's attack, McHenry said, explaining that an application of 50 per cent wettable DDT used at the rate of six tablespoonsful to three gallons of water is the best weapon.

Spray the insect on sight, McHenry ordered and then spray the bushes and plants where they are likely to begin feeding. If the infestation is heavy a second spraying may be necessary.

One word of warning that McHenry would like to give all who are enlisting in the battle is not to use the common household DDT. "It won't make a dent in the enemy offense," he declared and besides it will kill the plants that the user is trying to protect against the beetle.

There are a few allies aiding the Jap beetle in the war on farmers, according to McHenry who advised the same treatment only with a different mixture.

The allies were identified as the plant aphis, which is attacking maple trees and the bag worm which is usually found suspended from evergreen foliage.

Three level tablespoonsful of lead arsenic in one gallon of water will combat the bag worm, McHenry said, adding that spraying of the maple trees isn't practical and the aphis isn't expected to cause any permanent harm anyway.

Cincinnati Firm Is Sole Bidder On Bond Issues

Frostburg Council Accepts Offers

FROSTBURG—Bids of a Cincinnati, O., firm on two bond issues of the City of Frostburg were approved unanimously last night by Mayor Marshall C. Skidmore and the City Council at a special meeting.

The firm of Walter, Woody and Heimerdinger was the only one to submit bids.

One bond issue of $20,000, known as the "water improvement and refunding bond issue of 1947," is designed to liquidate the $55,000 water improvement bond issue of 1923, which matures August 1. The $55,000 bonded indebtedness has been carried by the city at the interest rate of 4½ per cent for the past 25 years.

The Cincinnati firm offered to purchase the $20,000 bond issue at the rate of 3 per cent interest, payable semi-annually. The bonds will be dated July 1, 1948, and will mature as follows:

Six thousand dollars on July 1, 1952; $7,000 on July 1, 1953; and the remaining $7,000 on July 1, 1954.

The second bond issue is the $25,000 street improvement bonds of 1947, designed to liquidate a debt for current paving projects and general repairs, and to provide funds for a number of future improvements.

On that bond issue, the firm bid 3¼ per cent interest, payable semi-annually. The bonds, dated July 1, 1948, will mature as follows:

Five thousand dollars on July 1, 1960; $5,000 each on July 1 of 1961 and 1962; and $10,000 on July 1, 1963.

Kiwanians To Hear Talk On Situation In Greece

Alexis S. Liatis, first secretary to the Greek Embassy, Washington, D. C., will discuss "The Greek Situation" as guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of Cumberland Kiwanis Club Thursday at Central YMCA.

Liatis, who has been attached to the Greek Embassy for a number of years, was secretary to the Greek delegation in San Francisco in 1945, and was advisor to the Greek delegation at the United Nations conference during 1947.

Man Whom

out on bail in Louisville, Ky., where he faces a similar charge.

At the time of his arrest here, Walker was married to the former Mrs. Mary Ashe, San Antonio, Tex. She said she first met the man at the Mayflower Hotel, Washington, D. C.

She did not learn of Walker's criminal background, authorities quoted her as saying, until the ex-convict was arrested here on the complaint of Mrs. Graham.

Assistant United States Attorney Amedeo L. Lauritano, who obtained the federal indictment, said Walker has also married a Mrs. Clara Duerr, St. Louis, Mo., in 1945. He is alleged to have obtained $21,000 from her.

Sent Wife To Alaska

Lauritano said Walker sent Mrs. Duerr to Fairbanks, Alaska, to check on a deal he supposedly was making for horses and that she still is there working as a bookkeeper in a warehouse without sufficient funds to return to this country.

Walker has been arrested 11 times in various parts of the country Lauritano said and that in 1930 he had been sentenced to serve one to 14 years in jail for forgery and in 1936 he was again sentenced for conspiracy.

At the New York arraignment Walker gave 542 North Pine Avenue, Chicago, as his address. He faces a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and a $20,000 fine if convicted.

That first 24 hours is the tactical time for the farmer's attack, McHenry said, explaining that an application of 50 per cent wettable DDT used at the rate of six tablespoonsful to three gallons of water is the best weapon.

Spray the insect on sight, McHenry ordered and then spray the bushes and plants where they are likely to begin feeding. If the infestation is heavy a second spraying may be necessary.

One word of warning that McHenry would like to give all who are enlisting in the battle is not to use the common household DDT. "It won't make a dent in the enemy offense," he declared and besides it will kill the plants that the user is trying to protect against the beetle.

There are a few allies aiding the Jap beetle in the war on farmers, according to McHenry who advised the same treatment only with a different mixture.

The allies were identified as the plant aphis, which is attacking maple trees and the bag worm which is usually found suspended from evergreen foliage.

Three level tablespoonsful of lead arsenic in one gallon of water will combat the bag worm, McHenry said, adding that spraying of the maple trees isn't practical and the aphis isn't expected to cause any permanent harm anyway.

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, June 28.—(INS)—The up and coming Barbara Bel Geddes—not Ginger Rogers—will star in "Wild Calendar" now bearing the new title, "The Luckiest Girl in the World." That title fits little Miss Bel Geddes very well, too. In three pictures, highlighted by her charming performance in "I Remember Mama," she has hit the star brackets.

The Libby Block novel has been touted for Ginger Rogers exclusively ever since Enterprise bought the best-selling novel of a few years ago. So the switch to Barbara is something of a surprise.

But it fits in with head-man Charlie Einfeld's new policy of fitting the player to the character and not remodeling the story to suit the star.

Before Jack Warner took off for Europe he took a look at "Adventures of Don Juan" and pronounced it a goodie. Fact is, the head man found the team of Errol Flynn and Viveca Lindfors so attractive, he planned a return engagement for them in "Dallas," after the city by the same name.

Football fans, to whom Bob Waterfield, Sid Luckman, Charlie Trippi and "Slinging" Sammy Baugh are just "name" making touchdowns over radio broadcasts, are set to get a look at their idols.

These boys, plus a team of other gridiron stars are set to play themselves in "Triple Threat," an independent Sam Katzman produces for Columbia release.

Fastest trip on record was when David Wayne left the cast of "Mr. Roberts" on Broadway Saturday to fly to Hollywood for added scenes on "Portrait of Jenny" and was back in the show Tuesday night.

It isn't only the girls who have to sweat out diets.

Paul Douglas has lost 20 pounds the hard way for 20th's "Three Wives" and while it has well nigh killed him to do it, he is pleased with the results. He weighed 220 when he was on Broadway in "Born Yesterday."

"Weight doesn't make too much difference on the stage," he says, "but it adds ten years to an actor's appearance on the screen."

Thomas Gomez broke up the "Numbers Racket" set today reading the line, "Put me in jail—my lawyer will get me out" as "Put me in jail—my agent will get me out!"

Raphael Hakim has bought "Miracle in the Rain" by Ben Hecht and plans to produce it in Paris. David Selznick owned it first. Hakim's latest picture, "Her Husband's Affair," starring Lucille Ball clicked well at the box office.

Abbott and Costello pulled a neat trick when they ran into Jimmy Stewart in the U-I commissary and got him to agree to narrate their two-reeler for the youth foundation. That's all today.

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, June 28.—(INS)—The up and coming Barbara Bel Geddes — not Ginger Rogers — will star in "Wild Calendar" now bearing the new title, "The Luckiest Girl in the World." That title fits little Miss Bel Geddes very well, too. In three pictures, highlighted by her charming performance in "I Remember Mama," she has hit the star brackets.

The Libby Block novel has been touted for Ginger Rogers exclusively ever since Enterprise bought the best-selling novel of a few years ago. So the switch to Barbara is something of a surprise.

But it fits in with head-man Charlie Einfeld's new policy of fitting the player to the character and not remodeling the story to suit the star.

• — • — •

Before Jack Warner took off for Europe he took a look at "Adventures of Don Juan" and pronounced it a goodie. Fact is, the head man found the team of Errol Flynn and Viveca Lindfors so attractive, he planned a return engagement for them in "Dallas," after the city by the same name.

• — • — •

Football fans, to whom Bob Waterfield, Sid Luckman, Charlie Trippi and "Slinging" Sammy Baugh are just "name" making touchdowns over radio broadcasts, are set to get a look at their idols.

These boys, plus a team of other gridiron stars are set to play themselves in "Triple Threat," an independent Sam Katzman produces for Columbia release.

Picture is a thriller about professional football and gets rolling July 12 as the heroes of the big leagues can do their stint before the football season starts.

• — • — •

Round-ups: Charles Boyer, first top-name screen star to sign for a television show this fall, has movie producers worried that other movie stars will sign up with "The Competition."

Fastest trip on record was when David Wayne left the cast of "Mr. Roberts" on Broadway Saturday to fly to Hollywood for added scenes on "Portrait of Jenny" and was back in the show Tuesday night.

James Nasser has offered a refrigerator company of Detroit a chunk of cash for their color picture "Of This We Are Proud," showing the national shrines of America. Nasser feels the documentary embodies everything fine America stands for.

It took Bill Bendix, who plays sportsman Babe Ruth in the movie, 30 minutes to land a little trout in the Sportsman's Lodge brook!

It isn't only the girls who have to sweat out diets.

Paul Douglas has lost 20 pounds the hard way for 20th's "Three Wives" and while it has well nigh killed him to do it, he is pleased with the results. He weighed 220 when he was on Broadway in "Born Yesterday."

"Weight doesn't make too much difference on the stage," he says, "but it adds ten years to an actor's appearance on the screen."

Hollywood in shorts: Sonja Henie and Freddie De Cordova dining three nights running at Ocean House.

The palatial apartment being readied for Ty Power in Rome looks like quarters for an ambassador. And why not? Ty is one of the best goodwill ambassadors we ever sent over there.

• — • — •

In spite of warnings from the State Department, Vera Ralston and her mother are determined to return to their native Czechoslovakia to see how close relatives are faring. The warning from here was that they might have plenty of trouble getting out.

The Andrews Sisters broke out in song anew when they got the opening day's figures on their Roxy stint—$24,000.

• — • — •

Nice-to-report department: Edward Ashley, Cesar Romero (when he is in town) and Columnist Harry Crocker have been going regularly to Sawtelle hospital to dance with women patients, formerly in various branches of the armed services.

Thomas Gomez broke up the "Numbers Racket" set today reading the line, "Put me in jail—my lawyer will get me out" as "Put me in jail—my agent will get me out!"

Any chance of the Bob Lowerys getting together again has iced.

Raphael Hakim has bought "Miracle in the Rain" by Ben Hecht and plans to produce it in Paris. David Selznick owned it first. Hakim's latest picture, "Her Husband's Affair," starring Lucille Ball clicked well at the box office.

Abbott and Costello pulled a neat trick when they ran into Jimmy Stewart in the U-I commissary and got him to agree to narrate their two-reeler for the youth foundation. That's all today.

More Shifting Of Radio Programs During Summer

EASTERN LOCAL TIME
(Listings fit either daylight or standard)

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, June 28—More shifting for summer is to be apparent on the schedules on three networks Tuesday night. At least four program spots are affected.

Running them in order of appearance, first on CBS at 8 comes the Mystery Theater which will step in the place of Big Town. This is a transfer of the theater from Friday nights on NBC.

Second on the list is the Carmen Cavallero music show, which is to be a summer fill for A Date with Judy on NBC at 8:30. He will be around until September 28.

Then by the time it is 9:30, Hit the Jackpot, ex-Sunday nights, will do its CBS quizzing at that time on Tuesday in place of the departed Christopher Wells drama. This change is made at the behest of the sponsor.

At this same time on MBS the Lone Wolf makes another return to this network with his who-dun-it stories. He goes in where Gregory Hood, another of similar type, drama, just vacated to go to Monday nights.

The Boston Pops concert will be in its final presentation on ABC at 9:30 as Arthur Fiedler does the conducting. English compositions get the prime places.

America's Town Meeting, swinging onto the ABC list at 8:30 from Pasadena, Calif., wants to know "What are the major issues in the coming election?"

RADIO IN REVIEW

By JOHN CROSBY

Advice to the Lovelorn

It's not often that this column wanders into Dorothy Dix's department and devotes itself to answering the personal dilemmas of its moonstruck readers. It's not, as I say, often. But sometimes. This is one of them.

John Crosby

Here is a letter from Master Georgie Fleming, age nine, who is generally considered the most cynical press agent in town in light of his years: "It's often struck me that radio is far from being a medium that represents all the people. The only people ever invited to participate on programs are the novelist whose book has just been accepted by the Book of the Month Club or the scientist who has just discovered a way of transmutting base metal into a sponsor.

"Why shouldn't radio occasionally honor the girl who is always a bridesmaid? If radio has its way, the fierce American gospel of success will bite more and more deeply into young minds, bringing an end to any prospect of hearing about the rebellious lad who broke away and became an artist. Couldn't Mary Margaret McBride be persuaded to interview the playwright whose play closed after one performance or the actor who's been in sixty-six straight flops?"

ANSWER

Dear Georgie:

Don't despair. Your next play will run longer than one performance and ultimately Mary Margaret will invite you aboard. Every one else has been on her program. She can't avoid you forever.

Sincerely,
JOHN CROSBY

P. S. You're sure you're just nine years old?

Last week's mail contained the following rather disconcerting communication:

"I not with great interest your article on television entitled "Two Dying Arts" in today's paper. You lamented that television would kill the art of conversation. I thought the art of conversation had been completely lost when three otherwise charming gentlemen spent an entire evening not talking, merely doing something mysterious with match sticks. Is this a new substitute for conversation?

Sincerely,
WILMA FREEMAN

ANSWER:

Dear Miss Freman:

The mysterious business with match sticks you speak of is undoubtedly the match game, one of the highest pursuits of the civilized mind. Match game addicts have passed beyond idle chatter. The game combines to a remarkable degree a deep insight into human psychology with complete mastery of higher mathematics.

P. S. In case you're interested, I lost heavily.

Sincerely,

●—●—●

And the following and final communique comes from an angry versifier named Miriam Teichner, whose complaint I pass along with my full approval:

To the nethernmost depths of the burningest hell
I consign those quizzees who are sunk in a well.
Asked "Where do you live?" be it Paris or Nome,
They have to say "Well" just to mention their home.
Asked "What do you do?" be it teacher or writer
Or model or sailor or farmer or fighter,
They have to bleat "Well' to confess to their calling
As if without "Well" simple facts were appalling
If its maiden or lad, if it's husband or wife,
When queried concerning their station in life,
It's "Well, I'm a mother" or "Well, I tame lions."
The poets, the preachers, the socialite scions,
The simplest things they're unable to tell
Without cranking themselves up with that damnable "Well"...

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

More Shifting Of Radio Programs During Summer

EASTERN LOCAL TIME
(Listings fit either daylight or standard)

BY C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, June 28—More shifting for summer is to be apparent on the schedules on three networks Tuesday night. At least four program spots are affected.

Running them in order of appearance, first on CBS at 8 comes the Mystery Theater which will step in the place of Big Town. This is a transfer of the theater from Friday nights on NBC.

Second on the list is the Carmen Cavallero music show, which is to be a summer fill for A Date with Judy on NBC at 8:30. He will be around until September 28.

Then by the time it is 9:30, Hit the Jackpot, ex-Sunday nights, will do its CBS quizzing at that time on Tuesday in place of the departed Christopher Wells drama. This change is made at the behest of the sponsor.

At this same time on MBS the Lone Wolf makes another return to this network with his who-dun-it stories. He goes in where Gregory Hood, another of similar type, drama, just vacated to go to Monday nights.

The Boston Pops concert will be in its final presentation on ABC at 9:30 as Arthur Fiedler does the conducting. English compositions get the prime places.

America's Town Meeting, swinging onto the ABC list at 8:30 from Pasadena, Calif., wants to know "What are the major issues in the coming election?"

Radio in Review

By JOHN CROSBY

Advice to the Lovelorn

It's not often that this column wanders into Dorothy Dix's department and devotes itself to answering the personal dilemmas of its moonstruck readers. It's not, as I say, often. But sometimes. This is one of them.

John Crosby

Here is a letter from Master Georgie Fleming, age nine, who is generally considered the most cynical press agent in town in light of his years: "It's often struck me that radio is far from being a medium that represents all the people. The only people ever invited to participate on programs are the novelist whose book has just been accepted by the Book of the Month Club or the scientist who has just discovered a way of transmutting base metal into a sponsor.

"Why shouldn't radio occasionally honor the girl who is always a bridesmaid? If radio has its way, the fierce American gospel of success will bite more and more deeply into young minds, bringing an end to any prospect of hearing about the rebellious lad who broke away and became an artist. Couldn't Mary Margaret McBride be persuaded to interview the playwright whose play closed after one performance or the actor who's been in sixty-six straight flops?"

ANSWER

Dear Georgie:

Don't despair. Your next play will run longer than one performance and ultimately Mary Margaret will invite you aboard. Every one else has been on her program. She can't avoid you forever.

Sincerely,
JOHN CROSBY

P. S. You're sure you're just nine years old?

Last week's mail contained the following rather disconcerting communication:

"I not with great interest your article on television entitled "Two Dying Arts" in today's paper. You lamented that television would kill the art of conversation. I thought the art of conversation had been completely lost when three otherwise charming gentlemen spent an entire evening not talking, merely doing something mysterious with match sticks. Is this a new substitute for conversation?

Sincerely,
WILMA FREEMAN

ANSWER:

Dear Miss Freman:

The mysterious business with match sticks you speak of is undoubtedly the match game, one of the highest pursuits of the civilized mind. Match game addicts have passed beyond idle chatter. The game combines to a remarkable degree a deep insight into human psychology with complete mastery of higher mathematics.

P. S. In case you're interested, I lost heavily.

Sincerely,
JOHN CROSBY

And the following and final communique comes from an angry versifier named Miriam Teichner, whose complaint I pass along with my full approval:

To the nethernmost depths of the burningest hell
I consign those quizzees who are sunk in a well.
Asked "Where do you live?" be it Paris or Nome,
They have to say "Well" just to mention their home.
Asked "What do you do?" be it teacher or writer
Or model or sailor or farmer or fighter,
They have to bleat "Well' to confess to their calling
As if without "Well" simple facts were appalling
If its maiden or lad, if it's husband or wife,
When queried concerning their station in life,
It's "Well, I'm a mother" or "Well, I tame lions."
The poets, the preachers, the socialite scions,
The simplest things they're unable to tell
Without cranking themselves up with that damnable "Well"...

The river Bistriz, which rises in the Carpathian mountains in Hungary and joins the Sereth just below Bakau, is called the Golden Bistritz because of the yellow or gold character of its sands.

A X Y D L B A A X R is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Market, In One Of Worst Declines Of Year, Drops One To Four Points

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP)—The stock market dropped one to four points today in one of the worst overall declines of the year.

Foreign developments were blamed almost entirely for the sudden weakness. Financial quarters reported there was nothing in the domestic news scene to account for the move.

The situation in Berlin seemed to be uppermost in Wall Street's thinking.

Of the 1,083 issues which appeared on the ticket tape, 762 declined and only 152 advanced.

Union Oil of California was one of the few to end in the plus column. The issue closed 1½ points higher at 35½ on news the directors had voted a quarterly dividend of 62½ cents a share, which contrasted with 35 cents paid in each of the three preceding quarters.

American Telephone managed a fractional gain, along with Lockheed, Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, and U. S. Rubber. Douglas Aircraft at 59 was ahead two points.

Down around a point or more were Skelly Oil 152, Ohio Oil 39, Houston Oil 33⅞, Pacific Western 55, Santa Fe 112¾, Southern Pacific 58⅞, Atlantic Coast Line 56⅝, United States Steel 80, Bethlehem 35⅞, General Motors 62⅞, J. I. Case 47⅞, Consolidated Natural Gas 46¼, Anaconda Copper 38⅛, American Woolen 50¾, and United States Gypsym 108½.

The bond market assumed a lower trend with a large number of rails declining fractions to more than a point.

St. Louis-San Francisco 4½ were on the off side, losing one-half point, and Southern Pacific 4½s lost one-fourth. Big Four 4½s lost a point, closing at 74.

Central of Georgia 5s, a popular issue, finished one-half point off at 12½.

Other losers included Northern Pacific 5s, down 1¼; Chicago and North Western 4½s, down one; and Baltimore and Ohio convertible 4½s, down five-eighths.

SUSIE Q. SMITH — By Linda and Jerry Walter

"Well, in a WAY it's murder . . . Popsie and Dude are singing cowboy songs!"

Market, In One Of Worst Declines Of Year, Drops One To Four Points

NEW YORK, June 28—(AP)—The stock market dropped one to four points today in one of the worst overall declines of the year.

Foreign developments were blamed almost entirely for the sudden weakness. Financial quarters reported there was nothing in the domestic news scene to account for the move.

A noteworthy feature of the market was the contraction in sales volume. Turnover amounted to only 1,210,000 shares, one of the slowest sessions of the month, but at that a shade above Friday's slow 1,150,000 shares.

The situation in Berlin seemed to be uppermost in Wall Street's thinking.

Of the 1,083 issues which appeared on the ticket tape, 762 declined and only 152 advanced.

Union Oil of California was one of the few to end in the plus column. The issue closed 1½ points higher at 35½ on news the directors had voted a quarterly dividend of 62½ cents a share, which contrasted with 35 cents paid in each of the three preceding quarters.

American Telephone managed a fractional gain, along with Lockheed, Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, and U. S. Rubber. Douglas Aircraft at 59 was ahead two points.

Down around a point or more were Skelly Oil 152, Ohio Oil 39, Houston Oil 33⅞, Pacific Western 55, Santa Fe 112¾, Southern Pacific 58⅞, Atlantic Coast Line 56¾, United States Steel 80, Bethlehem 35⅞, General Motors 62⅞, J. I. Case 47⅞, Consolidated Natural Gas 46¼, Anaconda Copper 38⅛, American Woolen 50¾, and United States Gypsym 108½.

The bond market assumed a lower trend with a large number of rails declining fractions to more than a point.

St. Louis-San Francisco 4½s were on the off side, losing one-half point, and Southern Pacific 4½s lost one-fourth. Big Four 4½s lost a point, closing at 74.

Central of Georgia 5s, a popular issue, finished one-half point off at 12½.

Other losers included Northern Pacific 5s, down 1¼; Chicago and North Western 4½s, down one; and Baltimore and Ohio convertible 4½s, down five-eighths.

Kelly-Union Negotiators Agree On 11 Cent Raise

Rubber Workers Vote On Proposal Saturday

An agreement was reached for a 11 cent hourly wage increase for plant employes yesterday, by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and the negotiating committee of Rubber Workers Local No. 26, effective June 28, according to company and union spokesmen.

The negotiating committee, headed by Ralph C. Beard, agreed to take the 11 cent offer of the company to the next regular meeting of Local 26, URCLPW of A, Saturday night for ratification or rejection.

It was noted that this is the first time in the history of collective bargaining at the Kelly plant that an agreement on wages had been reached by company spokesmen and negotiators before the expiration date of a contract. The present contract expires July 1.

In a statement issued for the company last night a spokesman said, "Representatives of Local 26 and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company virtually completed this afternoon, several weeks of negotiations covering new contract provisions and wages.

"The wage agreement provides for an increase of 11 cents an hour for all hourly workers effective June 28, and the company is announcing a like increase to salaried employes, effective July 1.

"It is expected that the contract with the Rubber Workers will run two years with provision for wage re-opening after one year.

"The union will present the above to the membership Saturday night for ratification."

Beard, a former president of the union, who was named chairman of the union's negotiations committee issued the following statement:

"After several weeks of negotiations with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the members of the negotiating committee agreed to submit the company's proposal to the membership at Saturday night's meeting, for ratification or rejection.

"Several issues yet remain to be negotiated.

"Among these issues, is a request by the committee for a 11½ cent increase, with the one-half cent to be used for intra-plant inequities.

"The committee however agreed to present the company's offer to the membership for acceptance or rejection.

"Other contract issues it is hoped by the committee can be settled and ready for aproval by that time."

While it seemed generally agreed that chances were good for an amicable settlement at Kelly, there had been no resumption of contract talks at the Celanese.

Officials of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, last night reported they were awaiting word from Federal Conciliator James C. Holden, who was out of town, to set a time for resumption of negotiations between the union and the Celanese Corporation of America.

Talks are expected to start again today or tomorrow. The contract expired at midnight Saturday, but operations continue normal at the plant.

Admissions To Park Pool Are Ahead Of '47

City To Order Filter System This Week

Despite the loss of two days' operation because of bad weather, admissions at the Constitution Park swimming pool for the fiscal month which ended June 25 are running ahead of last year's total for the same period, according to a report filed with Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds by A. H. Gehauf, pool manager.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Reynolds announced yesterday that the city plans to order a filtration system for the pool this week from the Refinite Corporation through its Washington, D. C., agent.

Installation of the system, which is expected to take two weeks, will be started after the pool closes in September. The Refinite Corporation submitted low bids for two types of systems, diatomaceous earth and pressure filters, bidding $13,423 and $17,304, respectively. The type of system to be ordered has not been selected definitely.

Report on pool admissions revealed that from June 6, when the pool opened for the current season, through June 25, admissions totaled 5,928.

During the same period last year, with two additional days of operation because of more favorable weather conditions, pool admissions totaled 5,850.

The record high for the season so far was established Sunday, with 1,108 persons paying admission to the pool, but that figure was not included in the report since the fiscal month had already closed.

During the period covered by the report, the highest single day's admission totaled 696 on Monday, June 14, the first extremely warm day without rain since the pool opened. A school picnic at the park also swelled attendance that day. The daily average attendance was 348, Gehauf said.

Record attendance for the entire season last year was 1,211 paid admissions on Sunday, June 29, 1947.

Dismissal Of City Policeman Upheld By Civil Service

CSC Board Confirms Stewart's Discharge

Dismissal of Charles P. Stewart from the Cumberland Police Department for "conduct unbecoming an officer" was upheld in an opinion released yesterday by members of the Board of Civil Service Commissioners who heard evidence in the case June 22.

Stewart was relieved of his duties in late May by Commissioner William V. Keegan and Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn but later appealed to the Civil Service Commission for a hearing on his case.

The terse statement released by the board read:

"In compliance with Senate Bill No. 409, enacted by the Acts of 1922, Chapter 96, Section 36, Article "E" we the Civil Service Commission of Cumberland, Maryland, after carefully examining the records of the trial of Charles Preston Stewart, dismissed policeman of the Police Department of Cumberland, Maryland, versus William V. Keegan, Commissioner of Police and Fire, Cumberland, Maryland, confirm the decision of the Commissioner of Police and Fire, William V. Keegan, and the Chief of Police, R. Emmett Flynn, under our hand and seal of the city clerk, this 24th day of June, 1948.

Members of the board declined to state what action committed by Stewart was interpreted as "conduct unbecoming an officer."

Stewart was a member of the 1 to 9 a. m. turn and frequently operated the cruiser car for the shift.

The board decision was signed by C. Phillip Jolley, chairman, H. Clifford Spiker, and Dr. B. C. Upchurch, members.

Greens Awarded $18,000 Damage

Mrs. S. W. Green was awarded an $8,000 verdict and her husband, S. W. Green, former county commissioner, was awarded $10,000 as the result of injuries suffered by Mrs. Green in an automobile accident on Sideling Mountain May 16, 1946.

Mrs. Green, represented by Noel Speir Cook, entered suit against Robert L. Harrison, alleged driver of the second car involved in the accident, claiming she suffered permanent injury in the accident and was hospitalized for five months.

Green, who was operating the car in which his wife was riding, filed suit against Harrison for medical expenses incurred and for the loss of his wife's services.

Hospitalization alone, cost $5,000 Green told the court. His wife said she suffered multiple injuries and as a result it was necessary to remove part of the left hip bone which shortened her leg two inches.

Cook told the court that Harrison's car appeared on top of the mountain just as the Green car reached the summit. The sedan operated by Green, according to Cook, was a total loss.

The Weather

Sultry weather continued to hang on in the Cumberland area yesterday as the thermometer showed a high of 89 degrees for the day. At 11 o'clock last night, the mercury had slipped to a cool 74 with no big drop expected before early morn. No rain yesterday the weatherman says, especially none he could measure. For today, it looks like it will be partly cloudy and quite warm and humid, with a few scattered thundershowers expected before nightfall. The outlook for the entire week is promising, the forecast reveals, but at different intervals showers will likely fall and should be welcomed after a warm humid day.

Japanese Beetle Opens Summer Offensive In Allegany County

The Japanese beetle, who refuses to sign a peace treaty with the farmer, opened up a new offensive over the weekend, and Ralph R. McHenry, county agent, said it will be at least two weeks before the full force of the attack is felt.

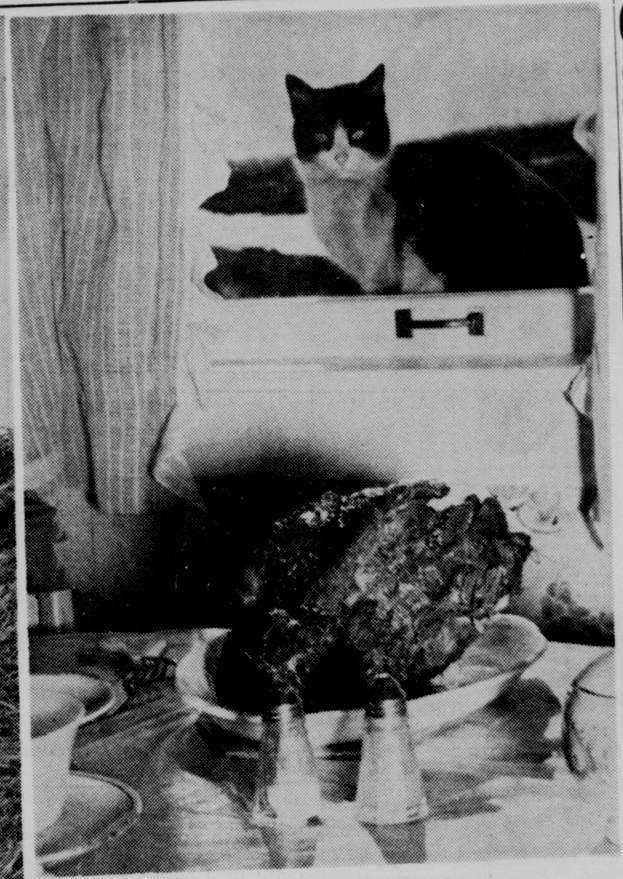

The Jap beetle, according to McHenry began emerging in local farms and truck gardens last Saturday and is already attacking many garden plants and shrubbery.

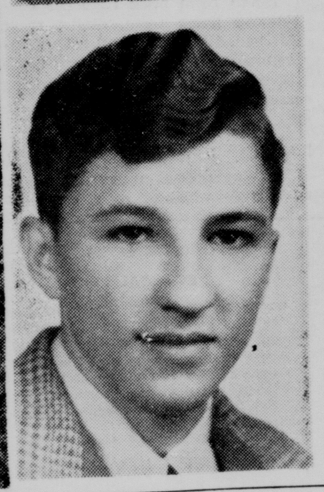

Just how heavy the infestation will be in Allegany County this year, McHenry declared, will not be known for at least two weeks when the emerging process is expected to end.

A few hints for combating the destructive insect were passed out yesterday by McHenry who has been studying the beetle tactics for several years. For the first 24 hours after they emerge from the ground, the county agent declared, the insects swarm around the nearest foliage. After that they go to work on plants and shrubs of their preference.

Crashed Plane Sought In Wills Mountain Area

Mute Reports Cub Craft Hit Pole

A black piper cub airplane which reportedly crashed in the Manns Choice, Pa., area yesterday at 2:55 p. m. had not been discovered at midnight after police and civilians had searched for more than 10 hours.

Police said they received first reports that a plane had crashed on Wills Mountain, five miles west of Bedford, Pa., shortly after 2 p. m. when Harry Kinton, a mute, reporting seeing the craft fly at low altitude and crash against a pole.

Pennsylvania State Police and a party of citizens, numbering more than 100 began an immediate search of the area, and civilian pilots from the Cessna Air Port, near Bedford, searched the area until darkness.

Police at the Bedford barracks, said they contacted all known air ports in the area but were unable to identify the plane or even determine for sure if the plane had crashed.

Kinton was quoted by police as reporting he was at work in a field near Route 30 when he saw the plane crash against a pole. He did not tell police if the craft exploded or if he saw it hit the ground, they said.

Investigating authorities said mounted police and civilians were still searching the steeply terrained and heavily wooded section early this morning.

Trustees Named For Cemetery As Dispute Is Ended

A year-old dispute over administrative rights in Bier Cemetery, near Rawlings, that once threatened to delay reburial of a World War II soldier, was settled yesterday in Circuit Court with a trusteeship being appointed.

The case which contained disputes within the dispute ended as the way was cleared for reburial of the soldier when his body is returned. A second lot is being divided and John F. Lease, Herman Smith, and Cecil Dawson, all of Rawlings are named trustees.

Mrs. Mary Dawson, who was once said to have claimed ownership to a lot where Bruce Baker, Rawlings, indicated he would bury his son, Kenneth Baker, killed in action, denied that she had ever claimed rights to the Baker lot.

Alfred Summerfield and Hilda Dawson, who both claimed ownership of a 12-grave lot in the cemetery agreed yesterday to divide the lot equally, and the court ruled that the cemetery which Ezra Smith and his wife claimed ownership too, was public property.

Even the attorney who represented the parties involved admitted the case was a tangled one.

Appealed To Court

It apparently reached the legal stage when Lease ffled suit asking the court to appoint a trusteeship to administer affairs and assign lots. Lease told the court he has acted as sexton for the past 27 years.

Mrs. Dawson and Summerfield both claimed that Lease assigned the 12-grave lot to them. Mrs. Dawson said she was assigned the lot in 1939 and Summerfield said the lot was given to him in 1941.

The possible delay of reburial services for the soldier occurred when a misunderstanding between Baker and Mrs. Mary Dawson arose over title to the lot. With the denial by Mrs. Dawson to property claims, that part of the case was cleared.

Lease himself created the confusion over the lot where the soldier is to be buried when he informed Baker that Mrs. Mary Dawson claimed right to the lot, attorneys said. With the denial of Mrs. Dawson to any claim that part of the case was cleared.

Smith told the court that the cemetery was part and partial of the Bier farm which he and his wife purchased. He explained that while the one-acre plot had been given to the community of Rawlings at a dedication, no deed was prepared to show the transfer.

Smith told the court he would approve continued use of the cemetery by the community if he could retain legal title to the ground and if a trusteeship was appointed to administer affairs of the burial plot.

However, the court, in the only ruling finally required, declared the land had been dedicated as public property for use as a cemetery already and therefore Smith's claim was without ground.

As a final touch to prevent any future disputes the three - man trusteeship was appointed by the court.

James Alfred Avirett represented the Dawsons, William H. Geppert represented Lease and Thomas Lohr Richards and Simon Reilly represented the Smiths.

Suggestions On Proposed New City Charter To Be Submitted Tonight

Public Meeting Set At Council Chamber

In connection with tonight's public meeting at City Hall under the auspices of the Cumberland Charter Commission to give citizens an opportunity to present their ideas on a proposed new charter for the city, Chairman Isaac Hirsch last night pointed out that there are four general types of government structure in use by American cities.

Those types are the commission form, such as Cumberland has now; the council-manager form; the "strong mayor" type and the "weak mayor" type.

Since 1917, Mr. Hirsch explained, the council-manager system has steadily increased in popularity while the other three forms have lost ground.

Thirty-one years ago, he said, the mayor and council form of government was used in 59 per cent of American cities of 30,000 population and over. By 1947 only 46 per cent retained that form.

The commission system was used in 36 per cent of American cities in 1917, but in only 25 per cent last year.

Only five per cent of the nation's cities used the council-manager plan in 1917, but by 1947 this form of municipal government had been adopted in 29 per cent of American municipalities.

Mr. Hirsch emphasized that the Charter Commission will welcome suggestions and ideas from all Cumberland residents, and that the public meeting tonight is open to all interested citizens who wish to submit their proposals.

The commission will draw up a proposed charter between now and October 1, based on a study of local conditions, experiences of other

Man Whom FBI Arrested Here Held In N. Y.

Walker Faces Two Federal Charges

John Donald Walker, who was arrested here in August, 1947 on charges of "marrying for a profit," was arraigned in a New York Federal Court last week on two federal counts charging that he fleeced $94,000 from three women whom he married in as many years.

Walker, whom Chicago police know as "Don Champagne," was taken into custody at the Cumberland race track during last year's meet on a warrant issued by Mrs. Sally Graham, Louisville, Ky., charging that he obtained $18,000 from her through deceit.

At the time of his arrest, the self admitted race horse enthusiast, was accompanied by a "Mrs. Donald Walker" whom he married in Washington a short time before.

She also told authorities that Walker had represented himself as a wealthy business man who owned stud farms in Maryland and Virginia, then added he had used up several thousands of dollars of her money, using a different excuse each time he obtained money.

Bench Warrant Issued

Local Widow Loses Over $300 In Park

Mrs. Verma Trout, a former resident of 122 South Mechanic Street, and presently residing at 65 Greene Street, told City Detectives last night she had lost over $300 while resting in Riverside Park.

According to Mrs. Trout, she stopped at the park to rest and took a handkerchief from her pocketbook to sit on and apparently the money in a blue wallet dropped out and was picked up later in the day.

Besides the $300 in one hundred dollar bills, the wallet also contained one $10 bill and three $1 bills. A refund check in the amount of $5 from the gas company also was in the billfold.

Scott Fletcher, president of Encyclopaedia Brittannica Films, Inc., and Kenneth W. Williams, manager of Photographic Illustrations Division, Eastman Kodak Company.

Prior to his winning the Special Awards in the national competition, young Munro was declared a winner in the annual contest sponsored by the high school with a photo entitled "Goodnight."

Kenneth expects to enroll at a Photography School in Baltimore next September, according to his parents and after that he probably will open a commercial studio.

Presently, the local photographer takes all his own pictures with his Busch Pressman. He develops and prints his own film in a darkroom in his home.

He became interested in photography while living in Manheim, Pa., when an ex-G. I. hired him to retouch negatives. He progressed rapidly and later began taking pictures for the Manheim Sentinal.

The family moved to Cumberland from Manheim almost two years ago, since that time, Kenneth has taken plenty of pictures of local interest. In his spare time, he also takes a brush in hand and does some professional paintings, which also have been acclaimed nationally.

Following graduation, the versatile young man went to work with his father, but takes time out each Wednesday to drill with the Navy Reserves.

The Munro's are one happy family. Aside from Kenneth, they have two more sons. Ronald, who graduated this past year with Kenneth and James, the youngster of the family.

Carnival Worker Posts Bond On Gaming Charge

Returns Money Of Mayor's Friends

Jack Stearns, Baltimore, posted $25 bond yesterday in Police Court on a charge of maintaining a gaming device, and Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn reported that $63, of which Stearns is accused of "fleecing" two friends of Mayor Thomas S. Post, has been recovered.

Stearns is connected with the Harrison Greater Shows, a carnival being sponsored at Community Ball Park by the Cumberland Dukes Basketball Club.

Mayor Post accused the carnival of "fleecing" his friends, who live near Hancock, at one of the games operated at the show Saturday night.

The mayor said his friends complained to him of their loss Sunday. He explained they had complained to carnival officials, without effect. They then threatened to have the carnival people arrested, but were told they would themselves be liable to a charge of gambling.

The mayor made his statement as the City Council received a letter from H. R. Whip, business manager of the Cumberland Dukes, requesting a three-day extension for the show.

The mayor then related what had happened to his friends, and asked that the request be delayed. The council agreed unanimously.

Whip told the Cumberland News last night that as soon as he learned of Mayor Post's complaint, he contacted police officers and carnival officials in an effort to "straighten out" the matter. Whip declared the carnival people had been cautioned when they arrived here that "no fleecing will be tolerated." "The basketball club is certainly not interested in promoting anything that will cause people to be victims of gaming devices," Whip declared.

'THANK YOU' LETTERS MUST BE WRITTEN TO HOST AND HOSTESS

By NANCY MOTTRAM

(Q) "Dear Nancy: I'd like to know a few things about 'bread and butter' letters. Is it absolutely necessary to write them to relatives or very close friends? Whom should you write to after a visit—the friend or her parents? I'm planning to go several places this summer, and I'd like to know what's correct."

Nancy Mottram

(A) It might be passed over if you didn't pen a note to Aunt Sue to thank her for the weekend. But the friends or relatives who invite you to spend a few days will go out of their way to make plans and arrangements to assure you of a good time, and it's a form of thoughtful courtesy that deserves a reply. You don't have to spend hours wearing down pencil points and using up your best stationery. The simpler the thank-you, the better. A stilted composition is just words, not real feelings. Write the same way in which you'd tell your pals about the fun you had. Send your thanks to your friend in a chatty letter, but her parents rate a prompt reply from you.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: This boy has taken me out for quite a long time. We never have had more than two or three dates a month, and he dated other girls, too. We always got along well on dates and when we saw each other in school, but now he doesn't call me up any more. I don't think there's any reason for him to be mad at me. How can I begin to date him again?"

(A) Your relationship was a casual thing, for laughs and companionship, without any deeper feelings on either side. He may have found someone else, and forgotten all the phone numbers he once called, yours among them. It was lots of fun while it lasted, but those occasional dates become fewer after a time, and finally stop. Don't build your disappointment up to a point where your friendship seemed more than it was. Forget it with other evenings and other dates. They'll be just as enjoyable, and perhaps you'll find someone who'll mean a little more to you than he ever did.

(Q) 'Dear Nancy: I have a friend who's a fine girl when we go somewhere together, but when we're in a group, she begins to 'put on airs.' She wants to impress everyone with her ideas and dates and she isn't happy unless she has all the attention. We don't know why she changes so fast in a crowd, but we'd like to make her stop, and don't know how. Have you any suggestions?"

(A) Don't try to out-shout her, or match her tales with ridicule, or you'll be imitating her. When her tongue begins to wag in that way, keep the chatter going among the rest of you so that she won't get an audience. Without being rude, you can steer the topics away from her special field, and let her listen for a change.

Nancy will answer as many questions as possible in her column. Write her in care of this newspaper.

June Bride Tradition Isn't Being Slighted, And Records Prove It

The old Mendelssohn tune "Here Comes The Bride," got enough encores in this area over the weekend to get favorable mention on the hit parade, as 33 couples picked up their marriage licenses and headed for the altar.

Its the traditional month—June—and the area lovers along with approximately 50 other couples from eastern states flocked to the County Court House to get legal permision to exchange the "love, honor and obey" vows.

The marriage-in-June tradition is being observed by more than the youth, too. The court records will prove it, for some of the brides-elect and their soon-to-be husbands aren't flinching a bit to give ages over 50.

With the new heat wave and the rush for marriage permits, the court clerk is inclined to take a pessimistic outlook on the month of romance. But it's entering the final days now and the famed "Sady Hawkins" Day is several pages deep on the calendar yet.

Kelly-Union Negotiators Agree On 11 Cent Raise

Rubber Workers Vote On Proposal Saturday

An agreement was reached for a 11 cent hourly wage increase for plant employes yesterday, by the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company and the negotiating committee of Rubber Workers Local No. 26, effective June 28, according to company and union spokesmen.

The negotiating committee, headed by Ralph C. Beard, agreed to take the 11 cent offer of the company to the next regular meeting of Local 26, URCLPW of A, Saturday night for ratification or rejection.

It was noted that this is the first time in the history of collective bargaining at the Kelly plant that an agreement on wages had been reached by company spokesmen and negotiators before the expiration date of a contract. The present contract expires July 1.

In a statement issued for the company last night a spokesman said, "Representatives of Local 26 and the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company virtually completed this afternoon, several weeks of negotiations covering new contract provisions and wages.

"The wage agreement provides for an increase of 11 cents an hour for all hourly workers effective June 28, and the company is announcing a like increase to salaried employes, effective July 1.

"It is expected that the contract with the Rubber Workers will run two years with provision for wage re-opening after one year.

"The union will present the above to the membership Saturday night for ratification."

Beard, a former president of the union, who was named chairman of the union's negotiations committee issued the following statement:

"After several weeks of negotiations with the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, the members of the negotiating committee agreed to submit the company's proposal to the membership at Saturday night's meeting, for ratification or rejection.

"Several issues yet remain to be negotiated.

"Among these issues, is a request by the committee for a 11½ cent increase, with the one-half cent to be used for intra-plant inequities.

"The committee however agreed to present the company's offer to the membership for acceptance or rejection.

"Other contract issues it is hoped by the committee can be settled and ready for aproval by that time."

While it seemed generally agreed that chances were good for an amicable settlement at Kelly, there had been no resumption of contract talks at the Celanese.

Officials of Local 1874, Textile Workers Union of America, CIO, last night reported they were awaiting word from Federal Conciliator James C. Holden, who was out of town, to set a time for resumption of negotiations between the union and the Celanese Corporation of America.

Talks are expected to start again today or tomorrow. The contract expired at midnight Saturday, but operations continue normal at the plant.

Admissions To Park Pool Are Ahead Of '47

City To Order Filter System This Week

Despite the loss of two days' operation because of bad weather, admissions at the Constitution Park swimming pool for the fiscal month which ended June 25 are running ahead of last year's total for the same period, according to a report filed with Street Commissioner Edgar Reynolds by A. H. Gehauf, pool manager.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Reynolds announced yesterday that the city plans to order a filtration system for the pool this week from the Refinite Corporation through its Washington, D. C., agent.

Installation of the system, which is expected to take two weeks, will be started after the pool closes in September. The Refinite Corporation submitted low bids for two types of systems, diatomaceous earth and pressure filters, bidding $13,423 and $17,304, respectively. The type of system to be ordered has not been selected definitely.

Report on pool admissions revealed that from June 6, when the pool opened for the current season, through June 25, admissions totaled 5,928.

During the same period last year, with two additional days of operation because of more favorable weather conditions, pool admissions totaled 5,850.

The record high for the season so far was established Sunday, with 1,108 persons paying admission to the pool, but that figure was not included in the report since the fiscal month had already closed.

During the period covered by the report, the highest single day's admission totaled 696 on Monday, June 14, the first extremely warm day without rain since the pool opened. A school picnic at the park also swelled attendance that day. The daily average attendance was 348, Gehauf said.

Record attendance for the entire season last year was 1,211 paid admissions on Sunday, June 29, 1947.

Dismissal Of City Policeman Upheld By Civil Service

CSC Board Confirms Stewart's Discharge

Dismissal of Charles P. Stewart from the Cumberland Police Department for "conduct unbecoming an officer" was upheld in an opinion released yesterday by members of the Board of Civil Service Commissioners who heard evidence in the case June 22.

Stewart was relieved of his duties in late May by Commissioner William V. Keegan and Chief of Police R. Emmett Flynn but later appealed to the Civil Service Commission for a hearing on his case.

The terse statement released by the board read:

"In compliance with Senate Bill No. 409, enacted by the Acts of 1922, Chapter 96, Section 36, Article "E" we the Civil Service Commission of Cumberland, Maryland, after carefully examining the records of the trial of Charles Preston Stewart, dismissed policeman of the Police Department of Cumberland, Maryland, versus William V. Keegan, Commissioner of Police and Fire, Cumberland, Maryland, confirm the decision of the Commissioner of Police and Fire, William V. Keegan, and the Chief of Police, R. Emmett Flynn, under our hand and seal of the city clerk, this 24th day of June, 1948.

Members of the board declined to state what action committed by Stewart was interpreted as "conduct unbecoming an officer."

Stewart was a member of the 1 to 9 a. m. turn and frequently operated the cruiser car for the shift.

The board decision was signed by C. Phillip Jolley, chairman, H. Clifford Spiker, and Dr. B. C. Upchurch, members.

Greens Awarded $18,000 Damage

Mrs. S. W. Green was awarded an $8,000 verdict and her husband, S. W. Green, former county commissioner, was awarded $10,000 as the result of injuries suffered by Mrs. Green in an automobile accident on Sideling Mountain May 16, 1946.

Mrs. Green, represented by Noel Speir Cook, entered suit against Robert L. Harrison, alleged driver of the second car involved in the accident, claiming she suffered permanent injury in the accident and was hospitalized for five months.

Green, who was operating the car in which his wife was riding, filed suit against Harrison for medical expenses incurred and for the loss of his wife's services.

Hospitalization alone, cost $5,000 Green told the court. His wife said she suffered multiple injuries and as a result it was necessary to remove part of the left hip bone which shortened her leg two inches

Cook told the court that Harrison's car appeared on top of the mountain just as the Green car reached the summit. The sedan operated by Green, according to Cook, was a total loss.

The Weather

Sultry weather continued to hang on in the Cumberland area yesterday as the thermometer showed a high of 89 degrees for the day. At 11 o'clock last night, the mercury had slipped to a cool 74 with no big drop expected before early morn. No rain yesterday the weatherman says, especially none he could measure. For today, it looks like it will be partly cloudy and quite warm and humid, with a few scattered thundershowers expected before nightfall. The outlook for the entire week is promising, the forecast reveals, but at different intervals showers will likely fall and should be welcomed after a warm humid day.

Suggestions On Proposed New City Charter To Be Submitted Tonight

Public Meeting Set At Council Chamber

In connection with tonight's public meeting at City Hall under the auspices of the Cumberland Charter Commission to give citizens an opportunity to present their ideas on a proposed new charter for the city, Chairman Isaac Hirsch last night pointed out that there are four general types of government structure in use by American cities.

Those types are the commission form, such as Cumberland has now; the council-manager form; the "strong mayor" type and the "weak mayor" type.

Since 1917, Mr. Hirsch explained, the council-manager system has steadily increased in popularity while the other three forms have lost ground.

Thirty-one years ago, he said, the mayor and council form of government was used in 59 per cent of American cities of 30,000 population and over. By 1947 only 46 per cent retained that form.

The commission system was used in 36 per cent of American cities in 1917, but in only 25 per cent last year.

Only five per cent of the nation's cities used the council-manager plan in 1917, but by 1947 this form of municipal government had been adopted in 29 per cent of American municipalities.

Mr. Hirsch emphasized that the Charter Commission will welcome suggestions and ideas from all Cumberland residents, and that the public meeting tonight is open to all interested citizens who wish to submit their proposals.

The commission will draw up a proposed charter between now and October 1, based on a study of local conditions, experiences of other

Man Whom FBI Arrested Here Held In N. Y.

Walker Faces Two Federal Charges

John Donald Walker, who was arrested here in August, 1947 on charges of "marrying for a profit," was arraigned in a New York Federal Court last week on two federal counts charging that he fleeced $94,000 from three women whom he married in as many years.

Walker, whom Chicago police know as "Don Champagne," was taken into custody at the Cumberland race track during last year's meet on a warrant issued by Mrs. Sally Graham, Louisville, Ky., charging that he obtained $18,000 from her through deceit.

At the time of his arrest, the self admitted race horse enthusiast, was accompanied by a "Mrs. Donald Walker" whom he married in Washington a short time before.

She also told authorities that Walker had represented himself as a wealthy business man who owned stud farms in Maryland and Virginia, then added he had used up several thousands of dollars of her money, using a different excuse each time he obtained money.

Bench Warrant Issued

Mute Reports Cub Craft Hit Pole

A black piper cub airplane which reportedly crashed in the Manns Choice, Pa., area yesterday at 2:55 p. m. had not been discovered at midnight after police and civilians had searched for more than 10 hours.

Police said they received first reports that a plane had crashed on Wills Mountain, five miles west of Bedford, Pa., shortly after 2 p. m. when Harry Kinton, a mute, reporting seeing the craft fly at low altitude and crash against a pole.

Pennsylvania State Police and a party of citizens, numbering more than 100 began an immediate search of the area, and civilian pilots from the Cessna Air Port, near Bedford, searched the area until darkness.

Police at the Bedford barracks, said they contacted all known air ports in the area but were unable to identify the plane or even determine for sure if the plane had crashed.

Kinton was quoted by police as reporting he was at work in a field near Route 30 when he saw the plane crash against a pole. He did not tell police if the craft exploded or if he saw it hit the ground, they said.

Investigating authorities said mounted police and civilians were still searching the steeply terrained and heavily wooded section early this morning.

Trustees Named For Cemetery As Dispute Is Ended

A year-old dispute over administrative rights in Bier Cemetery, near Rawlings, that once threatened to delay reburial of a World War II soldier, was settled yesterday in Circuit Court with a trusteeship being appointed.

The case which contained disputes within the dispute ended as the way was cleared for reburial of the soldier when his body is returned. A second lot is being divided and John F. Lease, Herman Smith, and Cecil Dawson, all of Rawlings are named trustees.

Mrs. Mary Dawson, who was once said to have claimed ownership to a lot where Bruce Baker, Rawlings, indicated he would bury his son, Kenneth Baker, killed in action, denied that she had ever claimed rights to the Baker lot.

Alfred Summerfield and Hilda Dawson, who both claimed ownership of a 12-grave lot in the cemetery agreed yesterday to divide the lot equally, and the court ruled that the cemetery which Ezra Smith and his wife claimed ownership too, was public property.

Even the attorney who represented the parties involved admitted the case was a tangled one.

Appealed To Court

It apparently reached the legal stage when Lease ffled suit asking the court to appoint a trusteeship to administer affairs and assign lots. Lease told the court he has acted as sexton for the past 27 years.

Mrs. Dawson and Summerfield both claimed that Lease assigned the 12-grave lot to them. Mrs. Dawson said she was assigned the lot in 1939 and Summerfield said the lot was given to him in 1941.

The possible delay of reburial services for the soldier occurred when a misunderstanding between Baker and Mrs. Mary Dawson arose over title to the lot. With the denial by Mrs. Dawson to property claims, that part of the case was cleared.

Lease himself created the confusion over the lot where the soldier is to be buried when he informed Baker that Mrs. Mary Dawson claimed right to the lot, attorneys said. With the denial of Mrs. Dawson to any claim that part of the case was cleared.

Smith told the court that the cemetery was part and partial of the Bier farm which he and his wife purchased. He explained that while the one-acre plot had been given to the community of Rawlings at a dedication, no deed was prepared to show the transfer.

Smith told the court he would approve continued use of the cemetery by the community if he could retain legal title to the ground and if a trusteeship was appointed to administer affairs of the burial plot.

However, the court, in the only ruling finally required, declared the land had been dedicated as public property for use as a cemetery already and therefore Smith's claim was without ground.

As a final touch to prevent any future disputes the three - man trusteeship was appointed by the court.

James Alfred Avirett represented the Dawsons, William H. Geppert represented Lease and Thomas Lohr Richards and Simon Reilly represented the Smiths.

George Orndorff, 612 Virginia Avenue, received a suspended fine of $10 in Police Court yesterday on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by his wife.

Japanese Beetle Opens Summer Offensive In Allegany County

The Japanese beetle, who refuses to sign a peace treaty with the farmer, opened up a new offensive over the weekend, and Ralph R. McHenry, county agent, said it will be at least two weeks before the full force of the attack is felt.

The Jap beetle, according to McHenry began emerging in local farms and truck gardens last Saturday and is already attacking many garden plants and shrubbery.

Just how heavy the infestation will be in Allegany County this year, McHenry declared, will not be known for at least two weeks when the emerging process is expected to end.

A few hints for combating the destructive insect were passed out yesterday by McHenry who has been studying the beetle tactics for several years. For the first 24 hours after they emerge from the ground, the county agent declared, the insects swarm around the nearest foliage. After that they go to work on plants and shrubs of their preference.
